

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

VOLUME XXXIX, NUMBER 7.

BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933.

Four Cents Per Copy—$2.00 Per Year

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. A. Van were in Portland, Monday.

Second Hand Easy Washing Machine, $15. Lyons. adv.

Ernest Brown was home from Bridgton over the week end.

W. H. Young of Portland was in town Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lyman Wheeler was home from Farmington over the week end.

Mrs. W. R. Chapman has returned from New York to spend the summer.

Herbert Rowe from University of Maine was at home over the week end.

Mrs. Grant Maxson and Mrs. Norman Sanborn were in Portland Monday.

Miss Eleanor Lyon was the guest of Mrs. Gladys Bean at West Bethel Sunday.

Miss Martha Brown spent the week end with Miss Frances Rich of Norway.

L. W. Ramsell and family have moved to their camp at Songo for the summer.

Mrs. Robert Farwell and family have moved to a rent over Hall's Barber Shop.

Henry Hastings, Frank Brown, and Will Carey were in Augusta on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Dingley were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wheeler visited their daughter, Alfreda, at Arre, Vt., over the week end.

Mrs. Jennie Littlehale went to Cambridge, Mass., Sunday, where she will spend a month visiting relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Edwards are spending a few days with their son, Willis Edwards, and wife at Arton, Vt.

Phil Cook of Chesterville, who has been employed by S. S. Greenleaf for sometime, has completed his work there.

Robert Littlehale and friend from Springfield, Mass., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Littlehale.

Mrs. I. L. Carver and children returned home Sunday from Skowhegan where she has been visiting the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Edwards, Mrs. Ralph Young and Mrs. Irving Carter attended the meeting of the East Star at Portland this week.

G. N. Thompson, accompanied by Andy Obosky of Newark, N. J., and Stanley Schofield of Weld, spent the week end at Mr. Thompson's camp at Mooslookmeguaticke.

Mrs. Lyman Wheeler and Mrs. Wyn Parlin went to New Sharon Sunday (Thursday) where Mrs. Parlin will speak before a group meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society.

Fred Tibbetts, Frances Carter and Margaret Carter of Portland are guests of relatives in town Sunday. Mrs. Fred Tibbetts who has been visiting in town returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Crockett and children, who have been visiting Mrs. Crockett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sumner, have returned to their home at Belmont.

Afternoon and House Dresses, and $1.98. Lyons. adv.

The Ways and Means Club of O. E. S. are sponsoring a bazaar at the Orange hall this evening. (Thursday) for the benefit of the New Auburn fire sufferers.

The orchestra will furnish the music.

BETHEL FAIR TO BE EARLIER THIS YEAR

Two Day Fair, August 23-24—Last Years Officers Re-Elected

Although there was only a small attendance at the "Fair meeting" Friday evening, it was decided best to fix the dates of the fair this year early in the season, and Wednesday and Thursday, August 23 and 24, were the dates fixed.

The price of admission will be 35c and 25c, as last year. The officers of Riverside Park Association, who so successfully presented last year's fair with a little more than two week's preparation, were re-elected to serve this year. They are:

President, Henry W. Boyker

Vice-President, D. Grover Brooks

Secretary, Clarence W. Hall

Treasurer, Thomas L. Brown

With these advance matters settled it seems possible with the usual help of public spirited citizens, to have a fair this season to compare favorably with those of larger centers. Several permanent improvements were made last fall in preparation for that event, and the biggest item this year will be a new roof for the Exhibition Building to replace that which succumbed to the weight of last winter's snow.

President Boyker assures us that this will be erected, and that the track will be put in shape for the training of horses at once. It is announced that a meet will be held at this track on July fourth and other meets may be run during the season, as the Riverside track is famous as one of the best in the State.

The Epworth League will sponsor a supper to be served in the Methodist Church dining room, Friday at 6:30. The proceeds of the supper will be used to send delegates to Epworth League Institute at Kents Hill.

In honor of her birthday, which occurred May 23, Mrs. Erma Young was given a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Winslow Howe, May 20. A delicious supper was served, followed by a social evening. Mrs. Howe was assisted in entertaining by the members of the Bluebird orchestra, who presented their loved leader with a beautiful necklace.

Bethel Scouts who attended the Boy Scout Jamboree at Portland Saturday were Erland Wentzel, Chandler Dalzell, Frank Littlehale, Clarence Poole, Edwin Brown, Stanley Brown, Donald Brown, O'Neil Robertson, Edward Robertson, and Donald Luxton. Others attending the events were Mrs. F. O. Robertson, Mrs. R. C. Dalzell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown, Roland Kneeland and Durward Mason.

Miss Valerie Bean entertained thirteen of her schoolmates and her teacher at an outdoor picnic party on Tuesday in honor of her eleventh birthday. Games were enjoyed followed by refreshments. Those present were: Joyce Swan, Hope Bailey, Muriel Hall, Barbara Luxton, Francine Warren, Luella Gallant, Muriel Bean, Henrietta Heath, Wilma Bean, Barbara Poole, Rosalie George, Annie Chapman, Mary Jodrey, Miss Alice Ballard, and the hostess.

New Majid Hosbery in chaffron and service weight, 58c and 79c. at Lyons. adv.

BETHEL SCHOOL BANK REPORT

Grammar School

Grade Sav. Bank Total %

V $1.00 $.50 8

VI 1.00 .40 13

2.00 .50

Sixth grade retains banner.

Patriotic Organizations Combine for Memorial Day Observance

RELIEF CORPS, SONS OF VETERANS AND AUXILIARY, AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY TO HONOR THEIR DEAD WITH SERVICES SUNDAY AND TUESDAY

Annual memorial services of Bethel patriotic organizations begin Sunday morning, May 28, at eleven o'clock with a union service at the Methodist Church. Rev. R. C. Dalzell will deliver the address and there will be special music. The Brown Relief Corps, the Col. C. S. Edwards Camp, Sons of Veterans and Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, the George A. Mundt Post, American Legion and its Auxiliary Unit will attend the services in a body.

Services at East Bethel

A service at East Bethel will be held at nine a. m. Tuesday, Memorial Day. The organizations will decorate the graves of their dead there; the East Bethel school children will present a short program; Rev. Elwyn Parlin will deliver a memorial address; and a firing squad from the Jackson Silver Post at Locke Mills will discharge a last salute.

At Soldier Monument and Odeon Hall

The patriotic organizations supplemented by the Boy Scouts and school children will assemble at the Legion Rooms and march down Main street for a short service at the Soldier's Monument beginning at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, with prayer by Rev. Elwyn Parlin. The Gettysburg address will be delivered by Paul Browne. Richard Young will sound taps. The service will close with the singing of American.

From the Monument the organizations will march to Odeon Hall where further memorial services are to begin at two o'clock. The Bluebird Orchestra will furnish music on this occasion; there will be a solo by Arthur Dudley; Gerald Cushing of Hebron Academy and West Bethel will deliver the address in memoriam.

It is fitting that not only the members of the patriotic bodies, but all citizens, join in these services out of respect for those who fought in our country's wars.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

SUNDAY, MAY 28

* 11:00 a. m. (Daylight Time)

* Union Service at M. E. Church

* Rev. R. C. Dalzell, delivering the address.

TUESDAY, MAY 30

* 9:00 a. m. Services at East Bethel. Rev. Elwyn Parlin delivering the address.

* 1:30 p. m. Service at Soldier's Monument. Paul Brown delivering Gettysburg Address.

* 2:00 p. m. Patriotic Service at Odeon Hall. Gerald Cushing delivering the address.

AMERICAN LEGION URGES WEARING OF POPPY

All World War veterans of Bethel were urged to pay honor to their fallen comrades by wearing a memorial Poppy on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 27, in a message issued by Leslie H. Coburn, Commander of the George A. Mundt Post of the American Legion. Commander Coburn declared that the wearing of the poppy is the individual way to show remembrance for the war dead and devotion to the ideals for which they gave their lives.

"On Saturday, May 27, America will pay its annual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the country in 1917 and 1918 by wearing the memorial poppy. I am sure that every World War veteran and all other patriotic citizens of Bethel will wear this token of remembrance on that day. Wearing the poppy means that we have not forgotten our comrades who fell amid the poppies of France and that we are carrying on for America in their spirit.

"The poppies will be offered on the streets here by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, our wives, mothers, sisters and daughters. They have volunteered for this work, giving their services without thought of personal gain. Disabled veterans have made the poppies which they will distribute, and the contributions they will receive will go entirely to the relief of needy veterans and veteran's families. Be sure not only to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, but be sure to wear an American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary poppy."

While digging a ditch on Oak Avenue, Norway, Gerald Hardin, 42, sustained a fracture of the left leg, when the wall of the ditch collapsed and pinned him beneath three feet of earth.

NOTICE

The Corporation Dump will be opened for the public June 1st on the land of Newell S. Godwin about opposite the entrance to Riverside Park. All persons using the dump will please observe the following regulations:

1 No loose paper or other light material which might be scattered by the wind may be deposited on said dump unless in closed boxes or bags.

2 All waste must be deposited over the bank.

3 Residents of said Corporation using said dump must keep in the road as laid out by said Godwin.

Assessors, Bethel Village Corporation

SUNDAY BASEBALL PROSPECT IN BETHEL

Town Team Rapidly Getting In Trim for Summer Games

Prospects of Sunday Baseball team for Bethel fans as the town team continues its tri-weekly practice sessions on the athletic field.

Henry Boyker has offered the use of the Fair Grounds to the Baseball Association for their Sunday encounters. The week-day tilts will be played as usual on the Athletic Field.

Most of last year's players are out for the Town team, and a few new ones. Scotty Robertson will do the chattering from behind the bat; Ted Swan will garner the wild pegs toward first; Jack Gill will captain the team and keep the second base bag dusted off; Ralph Young will do the capering around at shortstop; and Bobby Goddard will endeavor to corral the balls in the third base area.

Custer Quimby and Bud Browne will make faces at the opposing batters and endeavor to make life as miserable for opposing batmen as their pitching ability enables them to. Doug Daniels, Stubby Wheeler, Doc Hood, Earl Williams and Red Kelly will ramble the outer pastures, picking daisies, swatting mosquitoes, and returning the balls the infielders miss.

The team this year has returned to the old Bethel Baseball Association fold. The officers are Fred Hamlin, secretary; Lu La F. Hale, treasurer; Herbert Bean, manager; and, as has been mentioned, Jack Gill, captain.

No games have as yet been charted but the team expects to get into action at an early date.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts met at the Legion Rooms Monday evening at seven o'clock. The meeting opened with the Scout Oath. Scout Master Bean then made the announcement that the troop would march in the Memorial Day parade. He then turned the meeting over to H. I. Bean who has a collection of revolvers and pistols, numbering thirty or forty, the oldest one being around one hundred and fifty years old, dating from the earliest flintlock through those using percussion caps to the modern revolver and automatic. Rev. R. C. Dalzell was a visitor at the meeting. The meeting was closed with the Scout Salute and Oath.

NOTICE

To the members of the Bethel Savings Bank:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the members of the Bethel Savings Bank Corporation will be held at said bank, in Bethel, Maine, on Wednesday, June 7, 1933, at two o'clock in the afternoon, to fill vacancies caused by loss of membership or otherwise; to elect a Board of Trustees, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the meeting, and to elect other necessary bank officers.

FRED F. BEAN, Secretary
Bethel, Maine, May 25, 1933.

GAMES RESTAURANT

Church Street, Bethel

Now Open for Business

FULL COURSE DINNERS

Special Rates to Townspeople

WITH THE POETS

To Our Readers—If there is an old song or poem which you cannot find and would like to see in print, write the Citizen. If we are unable to locate it possibly another reader can furnish it for publication.

COVER THEM OVER
Will Carleton

Cover the thousands who sleep far away—
Sleep where their friends cannot find them today;
They who in mountain and hillside and dell
Rest where they wearied, and lie where they fell.
Softly the grassblade creeps round their repose;
Sweetly above them the wild flower-et blows;
Zephyrs of freedom fly gently o'er-head,
Whispering names for the patriot dead.
So in our minds we will name them once more,
So in our hearts we will cover them o'er;
Roses and lilies and violets blue
Bloom in our souls for the brave and the true.
Cover them over—yes, cover them over—
Parents and husbands and brothers and lovers;
Think of those far-away heroes of ours,
And cover them over with beautiful flowers!

HOW DID YOU DIE?
Edmund Vance Cooke

Did you tackle the trouble that came your way
With a resolute heart and cheerful?
Or hide your face from the light of day
With a craven soul and fearful?
O, a trouble's a ton, or a trouble's an ounce,
Or a trouble is what you make it.
And it isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts,
But only how did you take it?

You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?
Come up with a smiling face.
It's nothing against you to fall down flat,
But to lie there—that's disgrace.
The harder you're thrown, why, the higher you bounce;
Be proud of your blackened eye!
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts;
It's how did you fight—and why?

And though you be done to the death, what then?
If you battled the beat you could,
If you played your part in the world of men,
Why, the Cripple will call it good.
Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a pounce,
And whether he's slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts;
But only how did you die?

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY
Frances Miles Finch

By the flow of the inland river,
When the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave-
grass quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead;

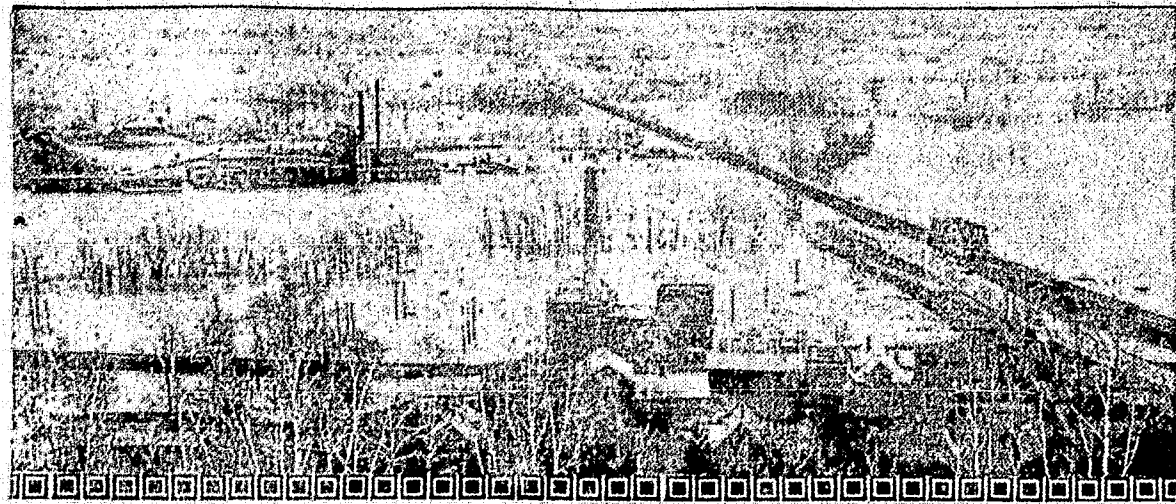

MICKIE SAYS

WHEN YA GET THROUGH READING THIS COPY OF
"YER FAVORITE PAPER," MAIL IT TO SOMEBODY WHO USED TO LIVE HERE!
WHO KNOWS—THEY MIGHT SUBSCRIBE

IF YOU LIKE OUR PAPER, TELL US—
IF NOT,
MAYAS
THE WORD

Connecticut River Valley Inundated

A view of the Connecticut River valley showing the country between Holyoke and Northampton which was flooded by the overflowing of the Connecticut river, causing damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars and making several hundred families homeless.

Under the sod and dew,
Waiting the judgment day,
Under the one, the Blue;
Under the other, the Gray.

No more shall the war-cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!

Under the sod and dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Love and tears for the Blue;
Tears and love for the Gray.

GROVER HILL

What a glorious time of the year
When apple trees are in blossom!
Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Tyler made an evening call at B. S. Tyler's, East Bethel, Monday.

One of Clyde L. Whitman's horses was sick recently and Dr. S. S.
Greeff was called to attend it.
Evander B. Whitman and Cleve Waterhouse, had employment on the road over Grover Hill the first of the week, while the tractor was operating here.

Miss Evelyn Whitman and friend, Sidney Rogers from Waterford, were guests at C. L. Whitman's Sunday.

The young people from West Bethel met for Sunday evening services with Miss Bertha Mundt, May 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Andrews and four children from Gorham, N. H., were callers Sunday at C. L.
Whitman's and Evander Whit-man's, Mrs. Andrew's cousins.

Cleve Waterhouse saw a large bear in Fred Wheeler's field, when going to his work Monday morning.
A. J. Poonsee has taken in some young stock to pasture for Frank Abbott and for F. C. Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mills were ill last week requiring the services of a physician.

I think that all who have been ill are convalescing.

Robert Whitean was unable to attend school, as also was Rodney Waterhouse, on account of a severe cough the first of the week.

BRYANT POND

Franklin Grange held its regular meeting Saturday evening with a good attendance. After the business meeting the following program was put on:

Song, "The Wild Bird," Quartet
Reading, Everett Davis
Talk on Arbor Day, Cora Crockett Duet, Cora Perham, Annie Davis
Reading, About Fishing, Ella Davis Roll Call, Your Favorite Tree and Why.

Closing song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The young people played games.
The entertainment and Operetta put on by the Grades last Friday was very successful. They all did their parts well and a good sum was realized.

Mrs. Annah Perham entertained her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs.
Edwin Taylor of Massachusetts, a few days last week.

Mrs. Silvia Judkins, Mrs. Ida Farnum and Mrs. Adelle Mann, are attending the Grand Chapter at Portland this week.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW?

Questions

- 1 Name the Secretary of State.
- 2 Where is the Moffat tunnel?
- 3 Who was the creator of Sherlock Holmes?
- 4 For what is Fanny Crosby noted?
- 5 What reptile has a very poisonous bite?
- 6 From what metal are razor blades made?
- 7 Which will fall the faster in a vacuum, a feather or a penny?
- 8 What is the superstition about a horseshoe?
- 9 What keeps the blood in circulation?
- 10 What man was translated and did not see death?

Answers to Last Week's Questions

- 1 Benjamin Franklin.
- 2 No.
- 3 James A. Farley.
- 4 Thirteen.
- 5 Poppy.
- 6 Organization to train boys and girls to make use of social and economic opportunities of rural life.
- 7 John Bunyan.
- 8 Frances E. Willard.
- 9 Yes.
- 10 Shem, Ham, Japheth, Gen. 6:10.

Women are beginning to get a little disgusted over some of the advertising appearing on bill boards and in magazines and newspapers, and Mary Muldoon, takes up the cudgel for her sex in Printers Ink. She says: "I shudder to think what the generations to come will think about us women, when on thumbing over museum numbers of present day publications they learn that we were an evil-smelling, foul mouthed, bleary eyed, rough skinned, constipated, anemic creatures—unloved, unhonored and barely unhung." We never happened to hear of Mary before, but we can see her point.—Bridgton News.

SOUTH ALBANY

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen were in Mechanic Falls Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dingley and family, and Mr. and Mrs. David McAllister Jr. were Sunday guests of David McAllister.

W. B. Cummings was a business visitor in Bethel on Saturday.

Mrs. Lillian Brown and Miss June Brown called on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wardwell Saturday.

Fred Scribner and crew have been working on the road in the Dresser district.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fiske were in West Baldwin on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wardwell, Arthur Eugene, Mrs. Robert Hill, Betty and Margaret Hill attended church at East Stoneham Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McKee and daughter, Ava, were guests of James Kimball and family Friday evening.

R. E. Hill was in Bethel on business Saturday.

Miss Winola Kimball and Fred-erie Scribner enjoyed the week end at their homes.

Round Mountain Grange held its regular meeting Saturday evening. The third and fourth degrees were

HOUSE WIRING AND ELECTRICAL REPAIR WORK

I am prepared to give prompt service in wiring, alterations and repairs—large or small.
ALL SIZES LAMPS IN STOCK

GUY MORGAN

General Wiring Contractor
BETHEL Phone 41-6

As a Gift for Graduation

or for Your Own Use

There is None Better than a

WATERMAN
PEN or PENCIL

$1 to $6

at Bosserman's

conferred and two applications for membership were received. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cobb, Mr. Perley Adams, Mrs. Lula Kimball and Charles Jordan recently called on Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wardwell.

The first Circle of the season was held at Hunts Corner, Thursday the 18th. All were pleased to meet each other again and in a jolly good time. The next Circle will be on Thursday, June 1, entertained by Miss Alice Chapman, Miss Frances Rich and Mrs. Stearns.

Hugh Stearns recently sheared sheep for A. B. Kimball.

Salesman

Tuttle

By JANE OSBORN

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service

It was hardly a situation in his life to which Howard Tuttle did not apply some one or another of his several principles of salesmanship, and usually with perfect satisfactory results.

One day when the name of Doris came up between himself and Doris's cousin, Fred Yates, in the locker room of the Country club—Fred Yates remarked that there wasn't a man in Crofton or anywhere else thereabouts who had a shot of a chance with Doris—Howard simply said: "Oh, is that so?" The truth was that Howard had definitely made up his mind to ask Doris to be his wife.

Thinking of Doris, Howard had a deep desire to fall on his knees before her, tell her of his consuming love for her, mumble something about his unworthiness and implore her pity. But that, as Howard reflected, would be the worst sort of salesmanship.

So, instead of going directly to Doris that afternoon as he had thought of doing, he drove slowly along a secluded road that led out beyond the golf course and figured the situation out. He had told Doris he would arrive at four. Time enough would be half-past. It frequently worked to keep a prospect waiting.

As Howard had figured it out there were some six sorts of prospects. With some the best salesmanship consisted of rather noisy enthusiasm concerning the goods to be sold. With others the best procedure was to create the impression that something was to be had for practically nothing. Others had to be put into a good mood—an expensive lunch and a show usually did the trick. Howard tried to think of Doris simply as a prospect. Finally he cubbyholed her in the last of his six classifications—the sort of people who never want a thing unless they feel that it is almost impossible to get.

Doris was waiting for Howard on the shady veranda of her father's house when he drove up. He saw her down beside her and paid her all the hand compliment or two.

"The thing I like about you—of all the things, I should say—," remarked Howard, "is that you seem to have no idea of marrying."

"I don't see why it should," said Doris rather resentfully. "Only, of course, I can't imagine considering any man as a possible husband—most men are impossible—but when a girl meets the man she feels she really likes—I don't see why she shouldn't think of him seriously."

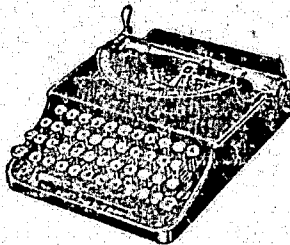

"But then you never could think of me seriously," said Howard, looking out through the honeysuckle vines that shrouded the veranda from the lawn beyond. "And perhaps it's just as well—that you couldn't. You see, I don't suppose I shall ever marry—at least not of the sort of girls I meet here in Crofton."

"No?" said Doris; and Howard listening with what he thought was perfectly concealed intention did not know whether she was really indifferent or only wanted to appear so.

"You see, I have to consider my family. I'd have to be sure the girl I married would be congenial—and the girls here wouldn't. My people are very strict—old-time Yankees—so if I ever marry, I'll have to find some plain little school marm who doesn't smoke or dance or drive a fast car or—"

"Well, I don't smoke," said Doris. "Only because you don't like it," said Howard. "Doris, you are a very charming girl but you are about as far removed from my mother's ideas of a daughter-in-law as any girl could be; so it's just as well you wouldn't have me anyway."

"You'll have to think of some other excuse," she said. "Because now your mother and she likes me—on see, last summer when I was staying in New England I knew some people who knew your people, and, well, I went to see your mother."

a genuine Remington

low as 10¢ a day

Just the thing for home use, small businesses, professional men, salesmen, students! Come in, and ask us how to get a real Remington portable typewriter for as little as 10c a day! Models from $19.75 to $69.50

THE CITIZEN

ELECTROL

the oil burner for ECONOMY AND SERVICE RANGE BURNERS

Priced from $25.00 to $75.00
installed

HEATING-PLUMBING BUILDERS' SUPPLIES and millwork to order

H. ALTON BACON
BRYANTS POND, ME.

Piles Quickly & Safely
Relieved at Home

Without an expensive operation through the use of Prescription which has been in constant use for years by hundreds of physicians in the successful treatment of blind, itching and bleeding piles. It is a wonderfully effective, acting and positively safe remedy. It may be easily and quickly applied in the home, and self-treated given without loss of time or expense. Price large size, full treatment tube $1.00 at your drug store or mailed anywhere in plain wrapper on receipt of $1.00 by D. P. C. Laboratories, Holton, Kansas. Relief is not secured after using tube, money will be promptly refunded. Accept no substitutes.

A-VOL for Headache

This new, harmless, non-narcotic tablet endorsed and prescribed by thousands of physicians and instantly relieves severe headache, period pains, cramps in child, nervousness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, dental or rheumatic pain. Based on a positive money guarantee. At your drug store from the D. P. C. LABORATORIES, Holton, Kansas.

COO Ask your Barber or Beauty Shop Operator about it

Salesman

Tuttle

By JANE OSBORN

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service

There was hardly a situation in his life to which Howard Tuttle did not apply some one or another of his several principles of salesmanship, and usually with perfect satisfactory results.

One day when the name of Dora came up between himself and Dora's cousin, Fred Yates, in the locker room of the Country Club—Fred Yates remarked that there wasn't a man in Crofton or anywhere else thereabouts who had a chance with Dora—Howard simply said: "Oh, is that so?"

The truth was that Howard had definitely made up his mind to ask Dora to be his wife.

Thinking of Dora, Howard had a deep desire to fall on his knees before her, tell her of his consuming love for her, mumble something about his unworthiness and implore her pity. But that, as Howard reflected, would be the worst sort of salesmanship.

So, instead of going directly to Dora that afternoon as he had thought of doing, he drove slowly along a secluded road that led out beyond the golf course and figured the situation out. He had told Dora he would arrive at four. Time enough would be half-past. It frequently worked to keep a prospect waiting.

As Howard had figured it out there were some six sorts of prospects. With some the best salesmanship consisted of rather noisy enthusiasm concerning the goods to be sold. With others the best procedure was to create the impression that something was to be had for practically nothing. Others had to be put into a good mood—an expensive lunch and a show usually did the trick. Howard tried to think of Dora simply as a prospect. Finally he cubbyholed her in the last of his six classifications—the sort of people who never want a thing unless they feel that it is almost impossible to get.

Dora was waiting for Howard on the shady veranda of her father's house when he drove up. He sat down beside her and paid her an off-hand compliment or two.

"The thing I like about you—or one of the things, I should say," remarked Howard, "is that you so obviously have no idea of marrying. It seems to cramp a girl's style if she is always considering the men she knows as possible husbands."

"I don't see why it should," said Dora rather resentfully. "Only, of course, I can't imagine considering any man as a possible husband. Most men are impossible—but when a girl meets the man she feels she really likes—I don't see why she shouldn't think of him seriously."

"But then you never could think of me seriously," said Howard, looking off through the honeysuckle vines that shielded the veranda from the lawn beyond. "And perhaps it's just as well that you couldn't. You see, I don't suppose I shall ever marry—at least none of the sort of girls I meet here in Crofton."

"No?" said Dora; and Howard listening with what he thought was perfectly concealed intentness did not know whether she was really indifferent or only wanted to appear so.

"You see, I have to consider my family. I'd have to be sure the girl I married would be congenial—and the girls here wouldn't. My people are very strict—old-time Yankees, so if I ever marry, I'll have to choose some prim little school marm who doesn't smoke or dance or drive a fast car or—"

"Well, I don't smoke," said Dora. "Only because you don't like it," said Howard. "Dora, you are a very charming girl but you are about as far removed from my mother's ideas of a daughter-in-law as any girl could be; so it's just as well you wouldn't have me anyway."

"You'll have to think of some other excuse," she said. "Because I know your mother and she likes me. You see, last summer when I was staying in New England I knew some people who knew your people and, well, I went to see your moth-

WEST PARIS

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Penley of Portland were guests of her mother, Mrs. Clara Ridlon, over Mother's Day.

Mrs. Harold Bonney and daughter Beryl spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Rye-son at West Sumner. Marilyn Bonney, who has been spending three weeks with her grandparents, returned home with her mother.

Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes was the guest two or three days last week of Mrs. D. R. Morrill at Auburn.

Miss Agnes Gray is entertaining Miss Nellie Nicholson of Lewiston at her camp; Grayloft, near Locke's Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barden are stopping with their daughter, Mrs. Earle R. LaBay, in Portland, while Mr. Barden is receiving treatment by a Portland physician.

Mother's Day was observed in the churches by a large attendance and appropriate services. Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes gave an inspiring sermon on "The Evolution of Motherhood." A large chorus choir, with Mrs. Raymond Farr soloist, furnished music. Guests were present from South Paris, West Sumner, and Lewiston. In the evening Miss Forbes delivered the Mother's Day sermon at Locke's Mills.

The Daughters of Union Veterans will meet at the hall Memorial Sunday, May 28, at 10 A. M., and attend the United Parish Church in a body.

The Memorial Day program will be carried out about as usual. The school children, soldiers of all wars, Boy Scouts and other organizations are to meet the Daughters of Union Veterans at Odd Fellows' Hall at 8 A. M., and proceed to the bridge for the ceremony in honor of our sailor dead, then to the cemetery to decorate the graves. A short program and address by Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes will be presented at the hall at 10 A. M. Everyone is invited to attend all services.

All interested in helping make wreathes for Memorial Day will meet at the school building Friday afternoon, May 26.

Rev. Clarence Roddy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Portland, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Men's 44 Class at Odd Fellows' Hall, Thursday evening. A good number listened to an able address, and a good program presented by the 44 Class Band.

The district meeting of Odd Fellows was held Friday evening with the West Paris Lodge. Supper was served by Onward Rebekah Lodge to a large number.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ross who have been living here during the winter, have returned to their home at North Paris.

Ronald and Clarence Weston returned with their grandparents.

Mrs. Clarence Stearns and Miss Inez Briggs were in Lewiston on Friday.

Mrs. Belle Robinson has returned to her home after spending the er, I asked her not to tell you about it. She approves of me perfectly. I even wrote to her and I keep her posted about what you are doing. She said she hoped you'd marry."

Dora turned her head and said so low that Howard could hardly hear, "she said she hoped you'd marry me."

"But of course, you wouldn't think of me that way," said Howard.

"Of course I would, silly," said Dora. "If I hadn't been thinking of you that way almost from the first time I ever met you why do you think I made an excuse to go to New England and to look up your mother and everything? But from the way you've been talking this afternoon I think I have made a mistake."

By this time Howard really was on his knees before Dora—taking her hands in his and looking entrancedly into her pretty face.

"Dora, dear," he said, "I know I have nothing to offer—it's a bad bargain for you—but will you—won't you marry me?"

TWO-MINUTE SERMON

(By REV. GEORGE HENRY)

PROFANITY

Profanity is the most idiotic sin in the world. It doesn't get a man anything. There is nothing to be gained by it. A man is a fool to use the name of God in vain, if he believes in God; and he is a greater fool to swear by one whom he does not believe. Swearing is a sign of ignorance, bad temper, irreligion. It doesn't take any brains to curse and swear. The most proficient user of profanity I ever knew was a diseased, degenerate, illiterate negro. There is a law against profanity—hence, the man who swears is a criminal. A good Mason does not speak the name of God except in reverence. Swearing is against the rules of nearly every fraternal organization. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

winter with her sister, Mrs. Addie Stone. Mrs. Lena Herrick is with her.

Mrs. Esther B. Tuell of Bethel is visiting her son George Tuell and family.

Barbara Tuell was given a birthday party on the occasion of her fifth birthday. A Maybasket, two birthday cakes, and gifts added to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The Forty-Four Class will hold its last service of the season at Odd Fellows Hall, Sunday, May 28th, at 9:15 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all other men's Bible classes to meet with them on this date.

GILEAD

Samuel Moore has returned to his home here after spending several months with his daughter, Mrs. Millie Popham, in Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Cora Heath spent the week end in Bethel.

Mrs. Evelyn Arenburg is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Edward Holden was a visitor in Bartlett, N. H., Saturday.

Miss Yvette Roy spent the week end at her home in Berlin.

Harold and William Moore of Norway have been spending a few days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jodrey of Gorham, N. H., were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cole, Sunday.

Mrs. John Richardson was a visitor in Berlin, N. H., Thursday.

Roy Arenburg of Chatham is spending a few days at his home here.

OLIVERS POPULAR AT LIVERMORE FALLS

Local friends of Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Oliver will appreciate this editorial from the Livermore Falls Advertiser of May 17:

"We regret the departure of Rev. Chester B. Oliver, pastor of the Eaton Memorial Methodist Church of this place (Livermore Falls) who leaves this week to assume his duties as pastor of the Methodist Church at Calais, Maine."

Mr. Oliver was dean of the churches of this section in point of service having served as pastor of his church for the past six years, a record equaled only by Rev. Charles I. Spear, who left this state and is now preaching at Ware, Massachusetts.

During his pastorate here Mr. Oliver has made a host of friends and entered with real spirit into community affairs. Aside from his pastoral duties he has been instrumental in reviving the Boy Scout movement here serving for several years as Scout Master. He is also a past president of the Livermore Falls Automobile Association now known as the Citizen's Club and was prominent in the affairs of the East Livermore Campmeeting Association.

Rev. Oliver is a live wire, a community booster and a man who is modern in his business endeavors. His fellowship brought us into close contact with him and many an enjoyable moment has been spent in conversation during his weekly visits to our office.

We feel that he will meet with continued success in his new pastorate and join with his parishioners in wishing him happiness and prosperity in his new field.

If every fellow who deserved, not justice there would be a good deal of demand for mercy.

GRANT'S

APPAREL SHOP

OF RUMFORD

Is showing a line of

SILK DRESSES,

EVENING DRESSES,

COATS, SUITS, BLOUSES,

SWEATERS, HOSIERY,

SILK UNDERWEAR

and HATS

AT

MRS. HARRY LYON'S

Main Street, Bethel

GROCERY SPECIAL

For the Week End, Friday & Saturday Only

Sunland BEANS WITH PORK, No. 2½ can, 2 cans 19c

Gem Brand GOLDEN BANTAM CORN, No. 2 can, 10c

Maine Leader STRINGLESS BEANS, 2 cans 19c

IXL TOMATOES, No. 2 can, 2 cans 19c

No. 2½ can, 2 cans 28c

Melco Brand MACARONI, 2 lbs. 15c

Finest NORWEGIAN SARDINES, 3 cans 25c

Complete Line of Meats at Reasonable Prices

PHONE 122 ALLEN'S MARKET MAIMEY BLDG.

See the New Remington Portable at the Citizen Office.

For Colds
A Quick Relief

Slight chills, irritated by lumpy throat, perhaps headache—these are early warning signals. Don't delay. Stay in warm room, in bed if possible, take hot lemonade, two teaspoons of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine to cause gentle action of the bowels—nature's safeguard; start perspiration, keep warm, eat but little, and so avoid grippe, flu, or serious illness. Your dealer sells the true "L. F." 50c bottle contains 60 doses.

"L. F." Atwood's Medicine

BUSINESS CARDS

Watch This Space for Dates

Eyes Examined, Glasses Furnished

by
E. L. GREENLEAF
OPTOMETRIST
over Rowe's Store

S. S. Greenleaf
Funeral Home
Modern Ambulance Equipment
TELEPHONE 112 BETHEL, ME
DAY AND NIGHT SERVICE

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.
BETHEL, MAINE

MARBLE & GRANITE WORKERS
Chaste Designs
FIRST CLASS WORKMANSHIP
Letters of inquiry promptly answered

See Our Work - Get Our Prices
E. E. WHITNEY & CO.
Satisfaction Guaranteed

DR. RALPH OTIS HOOD
OSTEOPATH

Office at the Residence of Mrs. Wallace Clark

Daily Evenings
9-12 and 2:30-5 by appointment

MACHIA'S GARAGE
GENERAL AUTOMOBILE

REPAIRING
TOWING & WRECKING SERVICE

Also Used Auto Parts
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

PHONE 20-121
VERNON STREET, BETHEL

KNOW WHAT YOU BUY

Nationally Advertised Goods are Sold by Bethel Merchants

The purchaser of standard advertised products takes no chances. The quality and price are right. The manufacturer cannot afford to have it otherwise.

BUY NATIONALLY ADVERTISED
GOODS IN BETHEL

APOLLO Chocolates, W. E. BOSSERMAN

ATWATER-KENT Radios, E. J. MARSHALL

CHILTON Pens, E. P. LYON

Community, Rogers Bros., and Holmes & Edwards Silver, E. P. LYON

EASTMAN Kodaks, W. E. BOSSERMAN

EXIDE Batteries, CROCKETT'S GARAGE

GOODRICH Rubbers, ROWE'S

McKESSON Health Products, W. E. BOSSERMAN

MICHAELS-STERN clothes, ROWE'S

MUNSON WEAR, ROWE'S

PENNSYLVANIA Tires, LORD'S GARAGE

PHILCO Radios, E. J. MARSHALL

PILOT Radios, LORD'S GARAGE

RADIOLA, Kolster Radios, CROCKETT'S GARAGE

RCA Radio Tubes, E. J. MARSHALL

WALK OVER Shoes, ROWE'S

WATERMAN Fountain Pens, W. E. BOSSERMAN

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN PUBLISHED THURSDAYS AT BETHEL, MAINE

CARL L. BROWN, Publisher
Entered as second class matter,
May 7, 1908, at the post office at Bethel, Maine.

Cards of Thanks, 75c. Resolutions of Respect, $1.00. Reading notices in town items, 10c per line.

Single copies of the Citizen are one sale at the Citizen office and also by

W. E. Bosserman,	Bethel
Donald and Irving Brown,	Bethel
Lawrence Parry,	West Bethel
George Stearns,	Hanover
Gordon Chase,	Bryant Pond
John Tebbets,	Locke Mills
Vernon Inman,	West Paris

Any letter or article intended for publication in the Citizen must bear the signature and address of the author and be written on only one side of the paper. We reserve the right to exclude, or publish contributions in part.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933.

NORTH WOODSTOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Ripley and family entertained relatives from Magalloway on Sunday.

Mrs. Alpheus Coffin was at Rumford recently.

Mrs. Frank Sweetser and family spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Emerson and Mrs. Emerson's mother, of Lewiston, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Abbott. Mrs. Hemling-way returned home with them after spending the past week in Lewiston. Mr. and Mrs. Lealie Abbott were also callers there during the day.

Mrs. Gertrude Stuart of Auburn is visiting Mrs. Herman Cole and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Brown attended the funeral of her mother at West Paris last Friday.

Mrs. Maxine Marble has gone to South Paris to work. Mrs. Clinton
Burk is caring for the baby.

Assistant Scout Master Everett
Cole and Scout Harland Abbott, Bernard McMillan and Daniel Brown attended the Scout Jamboree at Portland last Saturday. Daniel Brown was third in knot tying.

Mrs. Eva Fuller was at Lewiston
Hospital recently to see her son Lloyd. He is gaining slowly but is not able to sit up yet.

Ralph Whitman was a caller at Walter Russ' recently.

Mrs. Horace Knights and son, John, of Strong, visited Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Herman Cole and family, also her son, James.

The South Woodstock baseball team played North Woodstock Sunday School team on Monday at the schoolhouse. Score, So. Woodstock 15, No. Woodstock 8.

Mrs. Alphonso Brown and her daughter, Charlotte, visited relatives at Farmington on Sunday.

BEAR RIVER GRANGE

Bear River Grange met in regular session, May 20, with twenty-six members present. Officers pro-tempore: Master, E. E. Bennett; vice-master, E. L. Holt; L. A.
Howard, Bertha Rogers. Grange
Sunday was observed at the North Newry Church on May 21 with a good attendance. Rev. Irons was the speaker and gave an excellent sermon. There will be another whist party June 5th.

PROGRAM

Song, "God and Bloom," Grange Paper, "Flowers That May Be Used On the Home Ground."

Reading, Arthur Bennett
A Talk on Turkey, Roland Fleet
Roll Call, "Quotations"

A tree shape guessing contest was won by Willard Wight.

There has been some misunderstanding in the program for the next meeting. Children's night will be observed as formerly decided on and the other feature will be postponed.

GOULD'S ACADEMY, 1836-1881

This was the original Academy building, erected in 1836 on the site of the present building. It was a commodious structure, well fitted for the school's needs at that time, although during the period of Dr.
Nathaniel T. True's teaching (1843-1861) it was at times necessary to turn away pupils for lack of room. In the early fifties the seats in the building were rearranged and in 1869 an addition of eighteen feet was built at the rear. In 1881 this building was succeeded by a larger one, which with extensive alterations a few years ago, has served to the present time.

HANOVER

William T. Chase and family were callers in town Sunday.

Mrs. Cheslie Saunders, accompanied by Mrs. Grannell of Mexico,
Mrs. Thomas of Rumford, and Mrs.
French and Mrs. Chapman of Bethel, attended the session of the Grand Temple at Lewiston, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyer, Mrs.
Alice Staples and Mr. and Mrs. G.
C. Barker motored to Lewiston on Wednesday to attend the Grand Temple and Grand Lodge.

Mrs. Dora Richardson is ill.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thomas are renovating the old Billings house preparatory to renting.

Mrs. Wallace Thomas entertained her mother, Mrs. Chapman, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas and two children were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Thomas.

Miss Shirley Merrill is able to take short auto rides once more.

Miss Lillian Hopkins who spent the winter in St. Petersburg, is getting Sundowner Inn ready for opening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Saunders and
A. R. Saunders attended Go-To-Church Sunday at the little church in Newry.

Several from this village motored to Lewiston Tuesday evening to hear Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees.

EVEREADY 4-H CLUB

A meeting of the Eveready 4-H Club was held Saturday at two p.
m. at the school house. After the meeting Frank Worcester showed some lantern slides of farming.
Then the poem "Curfew shall not ring tonight" was read and some pictures shown of it. There were eight members present. Miss Dorothy Abbott of Rumford Point was a visitor. The girls hung the boys a Maybasket. After the meeting we played games—Louise Brown, Sec.

Someone has truly said: Today well lived makes yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow
a vision of hope.

WILSON'S MILLS

Farming seems to be the only work here at present and every one seems to be doing a little more this year than last.

Ted Hewey is making daily trips, down and back each day.

Mrs. Hattie Bennett, Mrs. W. H.
Hart and Mrs. Gertrude Bennett attended the Church Conference at Upton Tuesday.

Floyd West and Gerald Little-hale are having a few days work at the dam.

Howard Judkins and wife of Bryant Pond have moved up to Parmachenee to open the resort for the summer.

Graduation is to be June 1st here. Baccalaureate services will be held at the church, May 28.

Clarence West was in Berlin on Tuesday on business.

Peter Littlehale, who had to dig up his water pipe that froze last winter way to the spring, has laid all new pipe and put all new pipe in his house and new hot water tank.

Gerald Littlehale has recently piped his house for hot water and put in a range boiler.

Mrs. Lester Littlehale was taken to Lewiston May 15. A Lewiston ambulance came for her. She is out of the hospital but with folks nearby, under the doctor's care.
Little three-year-old Norman is with his grandmother, Mrs. Peter Littlehale, while Lester, Jr., stays at home so to be near school. The teacher is doing the house work night and morning.

Maybaskets have been hung at nearly everyone's door this year, here in town. The young folks get lots of enjoyment out of it.

We have three meat and fish cars at present and two fruit trucks weekly and some twice a week.
Butter is 30c per pound here now, while at Berlin we get it for 21c.

Philip West of Magalloway is preparing to get his logs out of the lake and hauled to the mill.

Fernald's Mill—Albany

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McKen and little daughter from North Waterford were afternoon callers Sunday at Flora McAlister's.

Mrs. Carlton Saunders and little son, Onell, and daughter, Irene, and Miss Irene and friend from West Bethel were recent callers at Carrie Logan's.

George Logan is spending a few days with his aunt and family, Mrs.
Carlton Saunders, at West Bethel.
Fred Littlefield is running his mill part of the time this week.

Sunday callers at Carrie Logan's were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Donhue and three children, Miss Francena Wilbur from Lewiston and her friend from Rumford, Lloyd Swan from Portland, and Frank Stevens from East Bethel.

Mrs. Rose Eames and grandson, Lloyd Swan from Portland have arrived at the Eames farm for the summer.

NORTH NEWRY

A good crowd was in attendance at the entertainment at Newry corner Friday evening given by the ladies of North Newry.

Daniel Wight was at home from Gorham Normal over the week end.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ferren were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wight.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Harlow called at L. E. Wight's Friday afternoon.
R. L. Foster was on Bear River
Monday evening.

A party of five from Springfield Mass., are at Wight Brook camp for a few days' fishing.

Mrs. Grace Arsenault was a caller at the town clerk's office on Saturday.

About 30 members of the Grange attended the Grange services at the North Newry Church Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Remember the opening dance at Grange Hall, Newry Corner, Friday evening, May 26, with music by the Melody Boys of Andover. Ladies are admitted free to this dance. Come and have a good time.

We are to have Oscar Judkins of Upton as Superintendent of Schools in this district for the coming year.

LOCKE MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brett, who were recently married were given a shower Friday evening by about thirty of their friends. A very enjoyable time was had by all. Punch and assorted cake was served by the visiting ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lurvey and son Roy, and Mr. and Mrs. Jason Bennett, were at Auburn Sunday afternoon and visited the fire zone.
Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bailey visited at Oxford Sunday.

Mrs. Caroline Chase, Eleanor and Helena Vetquoskey were in Lewiston shopping Saturday.

The "Tirrells" opened their tea room Saturday for the summer.

Miss Barbara E. Bennett visited at Hebron over the week end and attended the track meet on Saturday.

A Sure Thing

The laws of Maine define just how carefully the Mutual Savings Banks must invest the money of their depositors.

"PUT YOUR SAVINGS
IN A MUTUAL SAVINGS BANK"

Bethel Savings Bank
Bethel, Maine

Who's Your Printer?

Does YOUR printer give you the kind of printing that your requirements demand?

The co-operation of your printer may be of surprising value to you, even on commonplace work.

Many people who appreciate good printing are our regular customers. No piece of work is too small to create a good impression.

Let us help you with your printing problems. Our prices and promptness will be as pleasing as our printing.

The Oxford County Citizen
BETHEL, MAINE

GOULD ACADEMY NOTES

The Gould track team points in the Oxford meet held at Hebron
last Saturday. Rumford with 70; Fryeburg third Norway fourth with fifty fifth with 6.

Quart Lane was high polar first place in the 440 yards, first place and a point in the 880 at 2 minutes, and a tie for third place in the 1100.

The pole vault. Captain Brett tied for first place in the high hurdles; placed second in the low hurdles; and jumped six feet for a fourth place in the jump. Douglas Daniel placed in the high hurdles, and in the broad jump.

in the discus and in the low hurdles. Clayton placed second in both the discus and the hurdles. Norris Brown placed in the 220 and third place in the hammer and the discus. Vail tied for pole vault. Richard Car-lucky mile to place fourth in the mile, handicapped by a cramp, scored a fourth place
Gould's junior relay col-
Paul Daniels, John Loeis-Burris, and Robert first place. The Gould consisting of Daniel Brett, T. Bartlett, and N. second.

Coach Fossett is taking men to Norway for the Norway High School meet at 3:30. The team is the services of John the dashes. Thorpe is from a foot injury and for the State Meet on June 3.

tries for the Norway
dash; D. Daniels, N.
Walker, 220 yd. dash; N.
Daniels, R. Walker,
Lane, N. Brown, 880 yd.
R. Walker, mile, 440 yd.
er, 120 yd. low hurdle,
Brett, R. Browne, A. Hill,
T. Bartlett, N. Hale, 800
dash; D. Daniels, N.
Vall, Lane, Shot 100
Brett, A. Hill, W. Groves,
D. Daniels, F. Thurst-Hammer; F. Thurst-er, Javelin; L. Hale, J.
Thurst, R. Browne.

omer T. Gregory, who p-Dartmouth at Gould A-been elected vice-presi-and Saddle, the Dar-graduate riding club a member of Zeta Psi has also been active city soccer squad and tclamations were givby Arthur Hill, Helakey, Alteen Bemis, John, Charles Dwyer, Ron-Albert Wheeler, Robert Edwards, Arthur Gibborn, and Helen Anders-

Donald Keady, Gould '27, uated from Suffolk Law une.

Senior and Freshmen
ed the first Interclass of the season, Wed-17. The Freshmen sta-the first of the game over the Seniors. The was 14 to 8, in favor men.

Senior Team
her, Polly Browne, Cap-her, Sally Chapman, Babe, Barbara Heath-
ase, Betty Goudy
ase, Polly Walker
hort Stop, Edith Kirk
hort Stop, Margaret D.
Field, Mabel Strout
Field, Dorothy Foster

GOULD ACADEMY NOTES

The Gould track team scored points in the Oxford County meet held at Hebron Academy last Saturday. Rumford placed with 70; Fryeburg third with 60; Norway fourth with 17; and Gould fifth with 6.

Quart Lane was high point man in the 440 at 54.6 seconds, first place and a new record in the 880 at 2 minutes 11.6 seconds, and a tie for third place in the pole vault. Captain Trafton tied for first place in the hurdles; placed second in the 100 hurdles; and jumped 5 feet 4 inches for a fourth place in the high jump. Douglas Daniels took first in the high hurdles, tied for second in the broad jump, took first in the discus and fourth in the low hurdles. Clayton Glover placed second in both the mile and 2 mile. Norris Brown placed second in the 220 and third in the 440. Floyd Thurston gathered in first in the hammer and a fourth in the discus. Vail tied for third in the pole vault. Richard Carter ran lucky mile to place fourth. John Orpe, handicapped by a foot injury, scored a fourth place in the Gould's junior relay consisting of Paul Daniels, John Foster, Russell Burris, and Robert Browne in first place. The Gould varsity consisting of Daniels, R. Browne, T. Bartlett, and N. Brown placed second.

Coach Fossett is taking fifteen freshmen to Norway for a meet at Norway High School Friday afternoon at 3:30. The team will be the services of John Thorpe the dashes. Thorpe is recovering from a foot injury and is being treated for the State Meet in Portland on June 3.

Entries for the Norway meet are: 100 yd. dash; D. Daniels, N. Brown, Walker, 220 yd. dash; N. Brown, Daniels, R. Walker, 440 yd. dash; Lane, N. Brown, 880 yd. run; R. Walker, M. Glover, R. Orpe, 120 yd. low hurdles; T. Bartlett, R. Browne, A. Hill, High jump; T. Bartlett, N. Hale, S. Lane, 100 hurdles; D. Daniels, Pole vault; Vail, Lane, Shot put; T. Bartlett, A. Hill, W. Grover, Discus; D. Daniels, F. Thurston, S. Hammer, F. Thurston, W. Orpe, Javelin; L. Hale, J. Foster, Thurston, R. Browne.

Ernest T. Gregory, who prepared Dartmouth at Gould Academy, has been elected vice-president of the Dartmouth and Saddle, the Dartmouth Graduate riding club. Gregory has also been active on the soccer squad and the Glee Club.

Statements were given last week by Arthur Hill, Helena Vetter, Alteen Bemis, Winona Smith, Charles Dwyer, Roma Warren, Albert Wheeler, Robert King, J. Edwards, Arthur Gibbs, Mary Brown, and Helen Anderson.

Donald Keddy, Gould '27, will be graduated from Suffolk Law School June.

The Senior and Freshmen girls had the first interclass baseball game of the season, Wednesday, May 17. The Freshmen started off the first of the game with a run over the Seniors. The final score was 14 to 8, in favor of the Freshmen.

Senior Team
Pitcher, Polly Browne, Capt.
Catcher, Sally Chapman
1st Base, Barbara Heath
2nd Base, Betty Goudy
3rd Base, Polly Walker
Short Stop, Edith Kirk
Left Field, Margaret Datzell
Center Field, Mabel Strout
Right Field, Dorothy Foster

Freshman Team
Pitcher, Roberta Browne
Catcher, Catherine Losler
1st Base, Margery Berry
2nd Base, Esther Wheeler
3rd Base, Betty Raynes
1st Short Stop, Evelyn Hunt, Capt.
2nd Short Stop, Evelyn Warren Right Field, Sally King
Left Field, Persis Adams
Center Field, Dorothy Irish

The second annual Oxford County Girl's Playday was held Saturday, May 20, at Steven's High School, Rumford. The Gould girls who attended were Polly Browne, Barbara Heath, Shirley Cole, Marguerite Hall, Ruby Hodgdon, Sylvia Merrill, Helen Philbrook, Beatrice Merrill, Marjorie Berry, and Betty Raynes.

Beatrice Merrill was the Gould representative on the Blue Team which was the team winning the most points for the day.

The girls participated in a variety of athletics including baseball, volleyball, ball, relays, dodge ball, track, and archery.

GOULD LOSES TO GORHAM HIGH 14-7

Game Featured by Hitting--Marlinson, Simmonds Hit Homers

Gould Academy started well last week at Gorham to run in four scores the first inning on Martinson's homer and singles by Paul Daniels and Bartlett. But the lead was of no avail as the Gorham sluggers could not be held in check. Allen allowed eight hits and eight runs in the first four innings until he was relieved by Quimby in the fifth. Quimby could not check the Gorham rally in that inning, as he allowed three hits, and two bad errors in the outfield allowed four more runs and left two men on when Whitman took the mound. A single by Sinclair added two more runs but from then on Whitman pitched nice ball allowing only three hits in five innings and striking out six batsmen.

Gould connected for fourteen hits off Addario but poor base running and hitless playing lost the game. McNally, Allen, and R. Browne twice were thrown out on the bases.

For Gould, Paul Daniels with three hits, Martinson with a homer and a single, Allen with two hits and McNally with two hits led the attack. For the winners, Addario got three hits and W. Byron, Simmonds, Sinclair, Ainsworth and L. Byron got two each.

GOULD	ab	r	h	e
D. Daniels, c	4	1	1	0
Martinson, ss	4	1	2	1
Glover, lf	5	1	1	1
P. Daniels, cf	5	2	3	1
Whitman, 1b-p	3	1	0	0
Bartlett, rf	2	1	1	0
Allen, p-cf-1b	4	0	2	0
Vail, 3b	4	0	1	1
McNally, 2b	4	0	2	0
Quimby, p	0	0	0	0
Browne, cf	3	0	1	0
	38	7	14	4

GORHAM	ab	r	h	e
Addario, p	3	4	3	1
W. Byron, ss	4	2	2	3
Herrick, 3b	4	0	0	2
Simmonds, 1b	4	1	2	0
Tanguay, cf	3	1	0	0
Sinclair, lf	5	1	2	0
Ainsworth, c	5	2	2	0
L. Byron, rf	5	1	2	1
Libby, 2b	5	2	1	0
Coulombe, cf	1	0	0	0
	39	14	14	7

2 base hits--W. Byron. 3 base hits--Sinclair. Home runs--Martinson, Simmonds. Hits: off Allen 8, Quimby 3, Whitman 3, Addario 14. Base on balls: Allen 3, Quimby 1, Whitman 1, Addario 3, Strike outs: by Allen 1, Whitman 6, Addario 2. Winning pitcher--Addario. Losing pitcher--Allen. Umpire--Leavitt.

Score by innings.

GOULD	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	T
GORHAM	2	2	2	6	0	0	0	0	14	14

Approximately 200 of the 315 towns of Maine organized for Extension work held meetings to recondition dresses during 1932. Maine women are being well dressed in spite of the depression!

UPTON

Henry Enman and Owen Richards, Bethel, were in town Sunday. Donald Frazier is working for S. F. Peaslee.

Harold Fuller arrived home from Portland Wednesday after a few days stay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Douglass were at Bethel calling on friends Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Pratt was home from Gorham Normal School over the week end.

Mrs. Ban Barnett and son James, and Donald Frazier were in Portland one day last week.

Perry Judkins and family, Oscar Judkins and family, (except Albert who was in Bethel), and Mrs. Selina J. Sanborn gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Judkins, Sunday, May 21, and enjoyed a dinner out on the lawn.

Perry Judkins and family went to Andover last Saturday and planted their garden.

Mrs. H. L. Abbott has been quite ill but is better now.

Mrs. Mary Chase has arrived at her camp to spend the summer. Her daughter, Miss Mary Chase, came with her but is returning to her home in Medford, Mass., shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Tucker of Needham, Mass., are spending his vacation at the Nutting camp on the shore of Lake Umbagog.

Tuesday, May 23, was a day of much importance to our small town, when we entertained the ministers from Oxford County in Maine, and Coos and Essex Counties in New Hampshire, as well as the people of this parish and several specially invited guests from outside, to witness the ordination of the ministers of our parish, Ronald S. Irons and Clifford W. Laws. The Umbagog Interstate Larger Parish business meeting was held at 9 A. M., after which the council for examination of the candidates was held. At 1:30 p. m. dinner was served to nearly one hundred people. At 3:00 p. m. the service of ordination was held. Order of service as follows:

Prelude
Hymn
Invocation, Rev. Roger Dunlap
Statement of the Moderator Minutes of the Scribe
Scripture Reading, Rev. Leland A. Edwards
Anthem, Choir
Ordination sermon, Dr. Marion J. Bradshaw
Solo, Mr. Roger Dickey
Ordination Prayer, Rev. John Irons
Charge to Pastors, Rev. Harry Stallard
Hymn, Congregation
Address to the People, Rev. Roger P. Cleveland Right Hand of Fellowship, Superintendents, Rev. Rodney W. Roundy, Rev. Robert G. Armstrong.
Hymn, Congregation
Benediction, Rev. R. S. Irons, Rev. C. W. Laws.
Postlude.

NEWRY

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Orent of Conway, N. H., were Sunday guests at Walter Powers.

Mrs. D. C. Smith, who has been in Auburn some weeks helping care for Mrs. Martha Martin, who has been very ill, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Ralph Brown and son, who have been to Upton a few days visiting relatives, came back Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warren of Upton have opened their tea-house to the public.

H. E. Morton had a crew at work on the road Saturday.

The Grange attended the church service last Sunday at North Newry in a body.

Harry Williamson and son of Upton were in town last Sunday afternoon.

TYPEWRITERS TO LET OR SELL
THE CITIZEN OFFICE

Rowe Hill, Greenwood

Mother's Day was observed at the Christian Endeavor meeting last Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Stella Ring leading. The program consisted of readings, special singing and exercises by the children. There was a good attendance.

The Smoky Mountain Boys held their regular meeting last Wednesday evening at their usual place.

The Blue Ridge Mt. Pals gave a program at the cabin last Thursday evening as follows:

Song, "Blue Ridge Mt. Home," the theme song.
All Music, Angus Salls
Reading, Angus Salls
Song, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Dance, Angus Salls
Song, "Old Fashioned Home in New Hampshire"

Jokes, Mickey Lang
Illustrated Song, "Popping the Question", Mac Bryant, Sandy Dunham.
Dance, Mac Bryant
Song, "Jungle Moon"

Song, "Old Grey Bonnet" Dance, Mike Ring, Ike Libby
Music, "Witches Serenade"

Song, "Childhood Sweetheart," Ike Libby, Mike Ring
Song, "Tell Me Little Gypsy," Illustrated, Mac Bryant, Angus Salls
Song, "Just a Little Street"

There were about fifty people present. Ice cream and saltines were served.

Ernest Brooks had a house warming last Friday evening in the new house he has just built. There were about sixty people present. The evening was pleasantly passed in playing games and dancing. Music was furnished by members of the Smoky Mountain Boys, harmonica, Jew's harp, and guitar. Mr. Brooks moved into his new dwelling Saturday morning. Some of the Smoky Mountain Boys helped with the moving.

Callers at Wesley Ring's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Ring and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dunham and children were callers at Elton Dunham's Tuesday.

Wesley Ring plowed for Elton Dunham, Monday and Tuesday.

Wilmer Bryant worked at Ida York's farming Monday and for Colby Ring and Delphon Howe on Tuesday.

Charles Hobbs and Robert Barbin, of Gorham, N. H., were at Camp Sebawikha over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs expect to come this week end to do some planting.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY 4-H CLUB

The Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club met with their leader, Ruth Farwell, May 20. The meeting consisted of Club Song, flag salute, and Club pledge. We voted to have our meetings Tuesday afternoons. The next meeting will be held June 6, 1933.—Reporter Kathleen Wright.

Quality GROCERIES

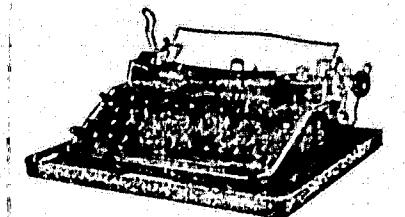

AT Economy Prices

Specials for One Week

RIPPLED WHEAT,	10c
MOLASSES COOKIES, 2 lbs.	25c
NEW QUEEN OLIVES, Large,	35c
NEW QUEEN OLIVES, Stuffed,	40c
Beechnut TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL,	25c
Beechnut COFFEE,	35c
NEW COOKED MEATS,	25c
APRICOT BARS,	15c
ANGEL CAKES,	39c
NEW GREEN PEAS,	1b. 10c
NEW GREEN STRING BEANS,	1b. 10c

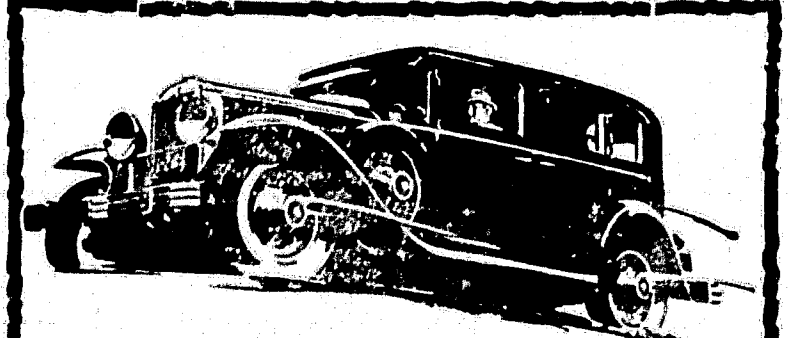

CUCUMBERS LETTUCE
NATIVE ASPARAGUS DAILY
L.W. Ramsell Co.
PHONE 111

TYPEWRITE Quietly
any time . . . any place
THE New Remington
Noiseless Portable

Noiseless -- and a writing quality unsurpassed by the finest office machines.

The Citizen Office

NEGLECTED?

YES!—IF YOU LOOK UNDERNEATH.

That is where the friction and wear do their dirty work.

Lubrication at regular intervals by specially trained men with Mobilgrease, the world's finest lubricant, will make your car last longer and ride smoother.

You will save money—needless repairs—and get a better trade-in value.

Exide and Philco Batteries
$3.95 up

Lord's Garage

BETHEL, MAINE

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Sunday, May 21, A lovely spring day. From my piazza rocking chair I have so enjoyed the merry chirp of the birds. Several families are occupying the four apartment bird tenement on a high pole in the yard, where they have annually built their nests and reared their young.

The Willing Workers met with Mrs. Jessie Andrews, Wednesday afternoon, May 17, and from reports a large number were in attendance and a good program was carried out. This meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Alvah Hendrickson but on account of the family being in deep mourning over the death of Mrs. Hendrickson's father, Adelbert Littlehale, whose funeral was held Monday, May 15, the members met with Mrs. Andrews.

Mrs. Mary Andrews has sold her cottage house and land situated at Trap Corner, to Stanley Perham of West Paris. Mr. Perham is a dealer in precious stones and minerals and will use the annex for display room and workshop.

Pete Collett, who has been forced to vacate the Andrews place by the sale of the property, is moving to the Fred Beck house.

A short time ago the young baseball players of "Pinhook School," accompanied by their teacher, Miss Lettie Day, came down to Union School and played a friendly game of baseball. The game showed many good points on both sides. Up to the sixth inning the home team seemed to be leading but all at once the visitors rallied and to the finish steadily gained, carrying home the school honors.

Iva Andrews was recently in Lewiston on a business trip. Mrs. Andrews has quite a nice patronage for the choice eggs and broilers which she markets.

Alden "Ted" Chase of Bryant Pond, was in the place recently delivering town tax bills. Mr. Chase tells us that many in town are helping out by meeting their bills now, which the town greatly appreciates under the existing depression.

The banking situation grows more and more unbearable. People formerly in comfortable circumstances are today depending on charitable help from friends and neighbors. The only remedy for the situation is to carry on as a soldier marching to battle, not knowing the outcome.

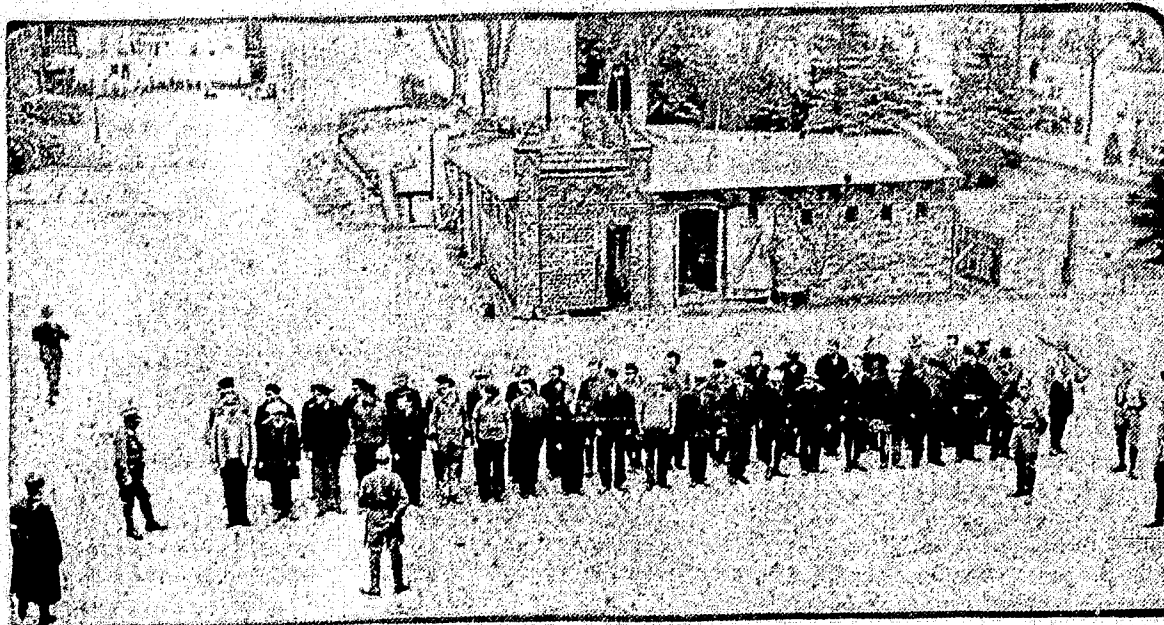

Mayhew's are still all the rage every night. The house dog barks all midnight as he hears the whistles of the paraver and the pursued. There are usually thirty to forty in the gang and everyone has to be caught; come in tops of trees, over barbed fence and mixed in swamp marshes. Young or old, married or single. Everyone is enjoying the hilarity.

Maude Benson of "Benson Brothers" is moving his family from this place to West Paris, where he will be more centrally located in connection with his wood and coal business.

Charles H. Harlow of Rumford has recently purchased a house lot here at South Woodstock and will erect an up-to-date bungalow for the family of his youngest daughter, Mrs. Lilla Harlow Silver of this place.

The death of Mrs. Noble Verrill brings a gloom of sadness to her many friends here. Mrs. Verrill was the beloved wife of the late Frank Verrill, the mother of a large family of children left to mourn her. Many years ago she left her girlhood home in a far western state and came to Maine to reside with her husband on a farm in Greenwood. Here they lived and their children were born, coming to Trap Corner after the children were men and women grown, where they have since then lived. Mrs. Verrill was of the Seventh Day Advent faith and most religiously kept her

Hitler's Enemies in Concentration Camp

Political prisoners in Germany assembled for roll call at the concentration camp established by Adolf Hitler on the Havel river. It is here that the chancellor is herding all of the opponents of his attempts to create a new Germany.

church vows, always an example of Christianity and of a good life, respected and revered by everyone.

Middle Interval, Bethel

Herbert Carter is spending a few days at his home in Middle Interval.

Jack Buckman was in Andover Sunday.

Mrs. Eva Buckman spent Sunday with her parents and attended the marriage reception of her sister, Mrs. Angelo Onofrio.

Ernest Morrisette has been working for Willis Ward for the past few days.

Mrs. Willis Ward went to Pine Point Wednesday where she will stay several weeks with Mrs. Emily Crocker.

Richard Stevens, George Osgood and Mervin Buck went on a camping trip over to Mt. Will.

Dr. and Mrs. Chapman and Alice Capen were callers at Mrs. E. M. Carter's Sunday.

The Good Sports Club held their leader's, Ethel Ward's, on Saturday, May 20. We held a judging contest. We also rehearsed our play. There were five present. Sec. Helen Stevens.

Fernald's Mill—Albany

Deferred

Most everyone in this vicinity is doing Spring's work, plowing and fencing.

Harlan Bumpus is helping Clayton Penley do his plowing.

Flora McAllister spent the day with Carrie Logan recently.

Mrs. Lester Johnson spent the afternoon with Nellie Flint Wednesday.

Roscoe Hill and Gard Barker went to Portland Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Wilbur were Sunday evening callers at Carrie Logan's.

Arthur Kimball called on Clayton Penley Sunday.

SUNDAY RIVER

Deferred

Mrs. Joe Spinney had a nice remembrance Saturday evening, a large Maybasket filled with oranges, candy, cake, bread, eggs, and butter, from Bethel friends.

Guy Caldwell and James Gupill from Rumford were here Monday.

Laura Newton spent Sunday in Andover.

R. L. Foster and Ramsey Reynolds went to Hanover smelting Monday night.

C. O. Demeritt and family spent Sunday in Ketchikan.

Harold Eaman, from Rumford, was here Sunday.

J. W. Reynolds was at Locke Mills Saturday on business.

J. Spinney is helping Hazen Sweeney with his Spring's work

HAZARDS WORTH HEEDING

It would be a good thing if all automobile drivers were required to learn a little lesson concerning the potential destructive power of a moving car, and the great distances required to stop.

A car moving at the slow speed of twenty miles an hour requires 20 feet to stop under the best of circumstances after 4-wheel brakes are applied—and with the average driver, it will have moved 14½ feet before he is able to apply the brakes. At 30 miles an hour, it will go 22 feet before he applies the brakes, and another 45 feet will be required to bring it to a stop. If it is moving 40 miles an hour, the brakes will not take hold until the car has gone 29 feet, and 80 feet more will be covered before the car is stopped. At extremely high speeds these distances are increased many times.

How would you like to be in an automobile that has just leaped from a precipice one hundred or more feet high? You would be just as safe (at least until you hit the rocks below) as you are rolling along the highways mile after mile at customary road speeds. An automobile traveling 40 miles an hour has the same capacity for inflicting damage, or the same smash as it would have from a straight drop through the air 54 feet—and going 60 miles per hour, as if it were dropped 120 feet.

The automobile is one of the most useful, and one of the most potentially dangerous, of human inventions. Its safe operation requires constant caution, knowledge and regard for the rights of others. Because a percentage of drivers have lacked those qualities the highways of America see the unnecessary deaths of more than 20,000 people annually. Last year a slight improvement was registered—this year we can do a great deal more if we make the effort. It is a problem that is up to the individual driver, and its solution is in his hands.

WEST GREENWOOD

Mr. Deegan and B. Harrington are working on the telephone line. Mr. Patterson and Paul Croteau are working with them.

Mrs. Cross and daughter were in town recently.

Ray Thompson and family were recent callers in this vicinity.

Mrs. Dearden has returned to her home in this vicinity.

John X. Bennett was in town recently.

Dick Lawrence is doing some work for Mr. Harrington.

When people share troubles together they are likely to become more friendly. Periods of national stress draw the people together and at such a time the mass sentiment is the stronger.

GREENWOOD CITY

Sylvia Morgan of Tuell Town called on relatives in town Saturday.

Gerald Cole of Portland was a caller at his sister's Mrs. Roland Hayes on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole at Portland.

There was a meeting of the Greenwood teachers at the school house Saturday morning.

Fay Morgan of West Paris was at her home here for the week end.

Some of the folks who used to complain that congress moved too slowly are now filled with fear that the present congress is moving too fast.

25 YEARS AGO

Items from Citizen of May 28, 1908

Gould Academy held its first track meet for many years at Riverside Park, Saturday, May 23d. The Sophomore class won, making 83 points. Twaddle did the best work for them, by making 16 of their points. The Juniors were a close second with 31 points. B. Coolidge making 18 of them. The Seniors got 19 points, F. Keene making 18. The Freshmen got 16, Massey making 11 of their points.

Widd Twaddle was home from the Medical School, Portland, over Sunday.

The official car of the Gladden tour passed through a portion of Oxford County last Friday. They arrived in Bethel from Rumford Falls about three p. m. and went on into New Hampshire.

WEAR HIS FLOWER

His fixed bayonet was pointed toward the enemy. His steel helmet was tilted down over determined eyes. An unseen machine gun sprayed his path with death, but he went forward for America.

In a poppy-studded wheat field he fell. They buried him after the wave of battle had swept by, and poppies sprang up around his grave. His victorious comrades, returning to America, brought memories and the poppy.

On Saturday, May 27, the men of the American Legion will ask us to wear a poppy. The women of the American Legion Auxiliary will offer us poppies on the streets and will give us an opportunity to aid the war disabled, the widows, and the fatherless children. Can there be a person in Bethel in whom the pulse of patriotism beats so low that he will refuse? He who can so soon forget the patriotic sacrifices of the past is a person from whom friends, community and country can expect little of unselfish service today or in the future.

MONEY SAVING PRICE

SMOKING 5 lbs. Send us $1.00 for Dollar CHEWING $1.00 P. O. or press Mr. Morgan of West Paris for details.

Order (no personal checks) we will promptly ship you a pound package of "Burley Tobacco Co."

Five Pounds of Old Kentucky Burley will make 40 large pipes of smoking or 60 twist chewing.

Send 35c in silver or gold we will ship Post paid one pound of Burley Tobacco as a trial offer. A will convince you.

We have thousands of regulars who profit from our "Samples"—our profit is so small we can comply with these requests.

We do not ship C. O. D. orders to do so would require a large deposit of clerks. Orders must be in plain language.

INDEPENDENT TOBACCO GROWERS ASSOCIATION

McClure Bldg. Frankfort

Few bad boys are as bad as the community thinks they are and good little mamma's boys are as good as fond mother thinks they are.

WAYNE AND AMCO FEEDS

FOR ALL LIVE STOCK

New low prices on Wayne America's Finest Chick Starters

ROY C. MOORE

Railroad Street Phone 12

DODGE AND PLYMOUTH SALES AND SERVICE

O. K. CLIFFORD CO., INC.

SOUTH PARIS

TYPEWRITER RIBBONS

REMINGTON UNDERWOOD

L. C. SMITH ROYAL

CORONA

For Sale at

The CITIZEN OFFICE

KENTUCKY BURLEY TOBACCO

"Direct From Grower To You"

Old Kentucky Burley Tobacco the cream of the finest crops Kentucky's bountiful soil can produce—ripe, rich leaves, smooth and mellow, with that rare old-fashioned flavor and fragrance that can produce "aging" can produce, proper on it you have never tasted or smoked a finer flavored, satisfying tobacco in all your life.

Special Offer!

FIVE POUNDS

SMOKING

TOBACCO

$1

Rich, Ripe, Old Fashioned Leaf

Our Old Kentucky Burley is more like manufactured tobacco than any like night—guaranteed pure from chemicals and all adulterations that conceal impurities, delude the sense of taste and undermine the health.

We use the same method as grandfathers used in preparing tobacco for their own use—no trace of harshness leaves it—no "bite" your tongue or your taste. Thousands of tobacco lovers the world over swear by its inimitable smoking and chewing qualities.

REDUCE YOUR 11-2 We sell TOBACCO BILL 1 rect the er, this eliminates the effects of a pound Revenue Tax—manufacturer's and middleman's profit, thereby effecting a saving to you of 50% or more. No tax packages, no decorations, just quality and lots of it.

Order (no personal checks) we will promptly ship you a pound package of "Burley Tobacco Co."

Five Pounds of Old Kentucky Burley will make 40 large pipes of smoking or 60 twist chewing.

Send 35c in silver or gold we will ship Post paid one pound of Burley Tobacco as a trial offer. A will convince you.

We have thousands of regulars who profit from our "Samples"—our profit is so small we can comply with these requests.

We do not ship C. O. D. orders to do so would require a large deposit of clerks. Orders must be in plain language.

INDEPENDENT TOBACCO GROWERS ASSOCIATION

McClure Bldg. Frankfort

THE MAY DAY MYSTER

By OCTAVUS ROY CO

Copyright by Octavus Roy Co. WNU Service.

CHAPTER IX

TANVEY deluged to bed

I rested. He and Re

arded the weapon. It w fully delicate thing and as a poisonous snake.

The handle was of metal, whether nickel or sil

er knew. The guard

istely carved, and the

which was unusually id

ulously keen, was of t

imper steel.

At the moment it was etty sight, however, for is covered with blood w

otted almost to blacknes

y moved away.

"Where'd you find it?"

"On the floor of the set—in the corner."

"Didn't you look there

here yesterday?"

"Sure I did."

"Yourself?"

"Yes."

"I thought you said there

othing there."

"I did, Jim; but I su

erlooked it. Though I'm

I see how I did."

Hanvey shrugged. "Thos happen, all right. It

ough."

"What?"

"Nothing. . . . I was ju g."

"I seemed disinclined

ent further, and Reagan force him. As a matter

the chief of the Murian

other force was elated.

in told 'Elsie, Jim—a ake a dozen mistakes, does the right thing

me. The crook can't affo ree."

"True enough, John. I

on't get any argument ou ut it is funny you didn't life when you first look uset."

Hanvey rummaged arou

esser drawer until he fou

box. He emptied this added into the bathroo

which he returned with a ercent cotton. He lined box with cotton and in

ly placed the knife in it he did not immediat

His eyes were fixed

the weapon.

"Funny," he said at len

"What?"

"The handle of that kn its polished metal, and ot a fingerprint on it."

"Well, I'll be . . . darn ot right, Jim."

"What you reckon—?"

"Yeah, Max Vernon has

ense in polish the print

andle."

"You sure think fast, Ja

Reagan looked up shal

be fare of the fat man

othing.

"You think I'm wrong?

"Seems like you must

Just looks kind of funny

at you didn't find that reore yesterday."

Reagan was disturbed, certain that he had look ential spot the afterno

order, and he had found his brain was racing, and whirled on his compan

"I've got it, chief."

"Got what?"

"The answer to that kn

ere's the off chance it all the time and I just

I hate to admit that ossible. The second the

Max Vernon had it with then he came back yeste

ing from Steel City he

there before I stuck h

rest. He was in this r grabbed him."

Hanvey's big head nod approval. "Now you're ph!"

"You think . . . right?"

THE MAY DAY MYSTERY

By OCTAVUS ROY COHEN

Copyright by Octavus Roy Cohen, WNU Service.

CHAPTER IX

HANVEY delighted to become interested. He and Reagan regarded the weapon. It was a powerfully delicate thing and beautiful as a poisonous snake. The handle was of polished steel, whether nickel or silver, neither knew. The guard was exquisitely carved, and the blade, which was unusually long and slightly curved, was of the finest tempered steel.

At the moment it was not a pretty sight, however, for the steel was covered with blood which had dried almost to blackness. Hanvey moved away.

"Where'd you find it?"

"On the floor of the hanging closet—in the corner."

"Didn't you look there day before yesterday?"

"Sure I did."

"Yourself?"

"Yes."

"I thought you said there wasn't anything there."

"I did, Jim; but I suppose I overlooked it. Though I'm darned if I see how I did."

Hanvey shrugged. "Those things happen all right. It's queer, though."

"What?"

"Nothing. . . . I was just thinking."

"I seemed disinclined to comment further, and Reagan did not force him. As a matter of fact, the chief of the Marland plainclothes force was elated. It's like you told Fluke, Jim—a dick can make a dozen mistakes, provided he does the right thing just one time. The crook can't afford to slip once."

"True enough, John. You sure don't get any argument out of me. But it is funny you didn't see that knife when you first looked in the closet."

Hanvey rummaged around in a dresser drawer until he found a color box. He emptied this and then added into the bathroom, from which he returned with a roll of absorbent cotton. He lined the color box with cotton and then gingerly placed the knife in the box. He did not immediately look at his eyes were fixed steadily on the weapon.

"Funny," he said at length.

"What?"

"The handle of that knife, John. It's polished metal, and yet there isn't a fingerprint on it."

"Well, I'll be . . . darned if you don't right, Jim."

"What you reckon?"

"Cluck. Max Vernon had enough sense to polish the prints off the handle."

"You sure think fast, John."

Reagan looked up sharply, but the face of the fat man told him nothing.

"Do you think I'm wrong?"

"Seems like you must be right. Just looks kind of funny, though, that you didn't find that knife day before yesterday."

Reagan was disturbed. He was certain that he had looked in that central spot the afternoon of the murder, and he had found no knife. His brain was racing, and suddenly he whirled on his companion.

"I've got it, chief."

"Got what?"

"The answer to that knife. First, here's the off chance it was there all the time and I just didn't find it. I hate to admit that, but it's possible. The second theory is that Max Vernon had it with him and then he came back yesterday evening from Steel City he dumped it there before I stuck him under arrest. He was in this room when I grabbed him."

Hanvey's big head nodded slow approval. "Now you're talking, Jim."

"You think . . . right?"

"It sounds mighty reasonable. Question is, are you sure it is Vernon's knife?"

"We'll ask him—that's one way of finding out. And in the second place, look at that spot on the wall."

It's like this, see—

Reagan stepped to the mantel and removed a scimitar which hung there. "Notice how you can see on the wall paper just where this hung, Jim? Yonder is the place the dagger was hanging—it fits that spot exactly. And you can tell it's a foreign thing."

"Ain't any question about that. It sure don't look awful healthy for Mister Vernon."

"It don't—and I'm sorry. I believe the kid has gotten a lousy deal all 'round. This Thayer evidently wasn't a thing but a plain, high-class hustler. It's a cinch that he must have been trimming Vernon at cards, and we know that he was gypping his fraternity brothers on the liquor game. Of course, Carmine thinks Thayer was a fine gentleman, but he would think that. As a matter of fact, Thayer was a dud and we both know it."

"We sure do."

"But that don't make Vernon's position any happier. He gunnells with Thayer about a girl. We know that Thayer had trimmed him good and plenty. We know that Vernon was desperate for want of money. We know that he went to Thayer's room and that shortly afterward Thayer's dead body was found. Now we locate the knife with which he was killed. We find it in Vernon's room and identify it positively—or will pretty soon—as being part of Vernon's collection of weapons. We have every reason to believe that the kid went plumb loco and took part in a bank robbery because he was desperate. The robber probably made a deal with him that all he had to do was drive a car, figuring no one would ever suspect a college student's car in a college town, even if it was hitting sixty on the road. We're sure Vernon was mixed up in that because we know he didn't have a thin dime before the thing happened, yet the very next day he buys a new car and pays the difference of twelve hundred dollars in cash. And I also know that he has fled like the devil about everything since I put him under arrest."

Jim whistled softly. "It sort of makes Mister Vernon out to be a pretty tough hombre, John."

"He isn't that. I just think he went nuts."

"Maybe so. . . . But he sure stayed crazy a long time."

Reagan was a trifle annoyed. It did not please him to have his damning summary greeted with even the slightest semblance of skepticism.

"What's wrong with my case, Jim?"

Hanvey arched his eyebrows in surprise. "Golly, John! I didn't say anything was, did I?"

"But," accused Reagan, "you don't really think it was Max Vernon?"

"Who says I don't?"

"Do you?"

"Pretty near."

"What do you mean? Pretty near?"

"Well—"

Hanvey drew a long, audible breath. "I sort of just happened to remember Larry Welch."

"Yeh? What about him?"

"Vernon had left the fraternity house before Welch got there, yet Welch says that he had a long talk with Thayer. Now it sort of seems to me, John, that if Thayer was already dead, Larry would have noticed it, wouldn't he?"

"Humph!" Reagan was crestfallen. "I think Larry lied."

"Why?"

"To shield Miss Peyton. He's goofy about her."

"You're right. . . . But then if he's sticking his own neck into a noose to shield her, don't it strike you that he's got some mighty good reason—a reason we don't know—for thinking that she killed Thayer?"

"I know, Jim—but we've got Vernon dead to rights. He's bound to have done it."

"Provided neither Larry Welch nor Miss Peyton did."

Reagan frowned, then broke into a disappointed laugh.

"You win, Jim. I kept running into snags like that all the time. That's why I wanted to pass the buck to you. He eyed the big man keenly. "What's your idea about the thing?"

"I haven't had an idea in a month. They don't come to me swift, like they do to you."

"But you surely think something?"

"Yeh—true enough. And the first thing I think, John—is that I ain't hardly talked to anybody about this affair. Until I see some of the others. I won't know where I stand—"

"And after you do see them, you'll be absolutely boughouse. I know . . . believe me, I do."

"I'll try, anyway."

"Who first? Vernon?"

"No-o. I think I'll have a chat with Ivy Welch."

Reagan conducted Hanvey to the office of the dean in the main building. Doctor Boyd was startled by Hanvey's appearance and appeared somewhat skeptical of the man's ability, but he was courteous—and readily acceded to Hanvey's request that Ivy Welch be summoned.

The door opened and a figure of vivid youth entered the room. She wore a white, sleeveless dress and a short, revealing skirt. The dean introduced her and then excused himself, promising Hanvey that they would not be interrupted.

While he bowed himself out, Ivy stood eyeing the two detectives. She showed the effects of the terrific shock to which she had been subjected. Tragedy—grim and stark—had invaded her life early, and left her peculiarly matured. There were dark circles under her eyes, to tell the story of tearful, sleepless nights—and she twisted her hands nervously. When the dean had gone she addressed Hanvey with courageous directness.

"Are you in charge of this case now?"

"Yes, Miss Welch—I guess so."

"Well, I'm glad. This man here—"

she jerked her bobbed head toward Reagan—"is absolutely dumb."

"Is he, really?"

"I'll say he is. Else why would he keep my brother in jail? Any body could talk to Larry and see that he isn't the kind who would kill anybody. That is, anybody but a cop!"

Hanvey turned gravely to his companion.

"You see what the public thinks about you, John. And seeing that we don't need any solid ivory around here—suppose you run along and let me talk to this young lady alone?"

"Very well," Reagan rose, without resentment, and started for the door. Hanvey followed. He spoke in guarded tones. "Just had a hunch I could do more with her alone, John. Suppose you take this knife down to the jail and ask Vernon if he's ever seen it before?"

"And then?"

"Come back and come in. I got a hunch she and I will be pretty good buddies by then."

Reagan marched off and Hanvey re-entered the dean's office, closing the door behind him. He liked the trim little figure—although she somewhat frightened him. She was sitting now in a straight chair, and her legs were crossed—disclosing a frank expanse of pink flesh between the knee and the hem of the dress. Hanvey felt himself blushing, but Ivy seemed totally unconscious of her display.

He settled comfortably in the dean's swivel chair, mopped his forehead and the back of his neck, and then grinned disarmingly at the girl.

"Answer me one question, Miss Welch: Ain't I the terriblest looking detective you ever saw?"

The girl's blue eyes opened wide and a quaint dimple appeared. "Well, I wouldn't say you were a sheik."

"I ain't this bad in cold weather. Heat just knocks me for a row of tins. Now Reagan yonder. . . ."

He lowered his voice. "You mustn't get sore at regular dicks, Miss Welch," he advised confidentially. "If they slough everybody, they're bound to have the right one. Me—I don't hardly ever make an arrest, and my job now is to turn loose at least two of the three Reagan's has got in stir." Jim was using police vernacular in a deliberate effort to impress the girl, and he knew that he was succeeding. She was sitting forward tensely; completely awed by his authoritative manner. "One thing, Miss Welch: I want you to know I'm on the level. I wouldn't try to put nothing over on you—cross my heart and hope to die if I would. If you don't believe that, why, there ain't hardly no use for us to talk."

"I think you're all right," said Ivy firmly.

"Thanks. It's real nice of you to say that. And now that we've started off so good, lemme tell you one thing more: I ain't a regular bull. I ain't got the slightest desire to make a record and I'd rather never slough anybody than do any harm to the wrong feller. You're sure your brother didn't do this thing. I sort of agree with you. But there's a whole lot of lying going on . . . and while I don't want to make you sore, Miss Welch—it ain't any secret that your brother is doing more than his share—which ain't helping him a bit. I want to locate somebody who knows something and is willing to talk straight. Will you or won't you?"

Ivy didn't hesitate. "I will!"

"Good girl. Now I want you to tell me about Mr. Thayer—and yourself. . . . Just whatever you feel I should know."

The girl bit her lip. "I've funny about that, Mr. Hanvey. I've tried to tell one or two people—even my brother—and they all laugh or sneer when I say I was in love with him."

"I wouldn't laugh, Miss Welch. I'm a sentimental old bird . . . and I believe in young love. Oh, gosh! how I do."

"I'm seventeen," she said. "I guess I'm not so awful dumb. I know about as much as the next girl. And I was in love with Pat Thayer. He was wonderful to me. Not always wise-cracking and showing off smart like most boys. He was awful different and I guess a girl knows whether she's in love or not, no matter how much people laugh. And when he—when he—"

Her eyes filled with fierce hot tears which she dashed away. "I'm an awful silly little fool, Mr. Hanvey—but I can't help it."

"You go right ahead and cry, Ivy. Hanvey's voice was infinitely gentle. "I guess I know how you feel, once when I was a heap younger—"

she jerked her head toward Reagan—"is absolutely dumb."

"This Man Here"—She Jerked Her Bobbed Head Toward Reagan—"Is Absolutely Dumb."

body could talk to Larry and see that he isn't the kind who would kill anybody. That is, anybody but a cop!"

Hanvey turned gravely to his companion.

"You see what the public thinks about you, John. And seeing that we don't need any solid ivory around here—suppose you run along and let me talk to this young lady alone?"

"Very well," Reagan rose, without resentment, and started for the door. Hanvey followed. He spoke in guarded tones. "Just had a hunch I could do more with her alone, John. Suppose you take this knife down to the jail and ask Vernon if he's ever seen it before?"

"And then?"

"Come back and come in. I got a hunch she and I will be pretty good buddies by then."

Reagan marched off and Hanvey re-entered the dean's office, closing the door behind him. He liked the trim little figure—although she somewhat frightened him. She was sitting now in a straight chair, and her legs were crossed—disclosing a frank expanse of pink flesh between the knee and the hem of the dress. Hanvey felt himself blushing, but Ivy seemed totally unconscious of her display.

He settled comfortably in the dean's swivel chair, mopped his forehead and the back of his neck, and then grinned disarmingly at the girl.

"Answer me one question, Miss Welch: Ain't I the terriblest looking detective you ever saw?"

The girl's blue eyes opened wide and a quaint dimple appeared. "Well, I wouldn't say you were a sheik."

"I ain't this bad in cold weather. Heat just knocks me for a row of tins. Now Reagan yonder. . . ."

He lowered his voice. "You mustn't get sore at regular dicks, Miss Welch," he advised confidentially. "If they slough everybody, they're bound to have the right one. Me—I don't hardly ever make an arrest, and my job now is to turn loose at least two of the three Reagan's has got in stir." Jim was using police vernacular in a deliberate effort to impress the girl, and he knew that he was succeeding. She was sitting forward tensely; completely awed by his authoritative manner. "One thing, Miss Welch: I want you to know I'm on the level. I wouldn't try to put nothing over on you—cross my heart and hope to die if I would. If you don't believe that, why, there ain't hardly no use for us to talk."

"I think you're all right," said Ivy firmly.

"Thanks. It's real nice of you to say that. And now that we've started off so good, lemme tell you one thing more: I ain't a regular bull. I ain't got the slightest desire to make a record and I'd rather never slough anybody than do any harm to the wrong feller. You're sure your brother didn't do this thing. I sort of agree with you. But there's a whole lot of lying going on . . . and while I don't want to make you sore, Miss Welch—it ain't any secret that your brother is doing more than his share—which ain't helping him a bit. I want to locate somebody who knows something and is willing to talk straight. Will you or won't you?"

Ivy didn't hesitate. "I will!"

"Good girl. Now I want you to tell me about Mr. Thayer—and yourself. . . . Just whatever you feel I should know."

The girl bit her lip. "I've funny about that, Mr. Hanvey. I've tried to tell one or two people—even my brother—and they all laugh or sneer when I say I was in love with him."

"I wouldn't laugh, Miss Welch. I'm a sentimental old bird . . . and I believe in young love. Oh, gosh! how I do."

"I'm seventeen," she said. "I guess I'm not so awful dumb. I know about as much as the next girl. And I was in love with Pat Thayer. He was wonderful to me. Not always wise-cracking and showing off smart like most boys. He was awful different and I guess a girl knows whether she's in love or not, no matter how much people laugh. And when he—when he—"

Her eyes filled with fierce hot tears which she dashed away. "I'm an awful silly little fool, Mr. Hanvey—but I can't help it."

"You go right ahead and cry, Ivy. Hanvey's voice was infinitely gentle. "I guess I know how you feel, once when I was a heap younger—"

she jerked her head toward Reagan—"is absolutely dumb."

"This Man Here"—She Jerked Her Bobbed Head Toward Reagan—"Is Absolutely Dumb."

body could talk to Larry and see that he isn't the kind who would kill anybody. That is, anybody but a cop!"

Hanvey turned gravely to his companion.

"You see what the public thinks about you, John. And seeing that we don't need any solid ivory around here—suppose you run along and let me talk to this young lady alone?"

"Very well," Reagan rose, without resentment, and started for the door. Hanvey followed. He spoke in guarded tones. "Just had a hunch I could do more with her alone, John. Suppose you take this knife down to the jail and ask Vernon if he's ever seen it before?"

"And then?"

"Come back and come in. I got a hunch she and I will be pretty good buddies by then."

Reagan marched off and Hanvey re-entered the dean's office, closing the door behind him. He liked the trim little figure—although she somewhat frightened him. She was sitting now in a straight chair, and her legs were crossed—disclosing a frank expanse of pink flesh between the knee and the hem of the dress. Hanvey felt himself blushing, but Ivy seemed totally unconscious of her display.

He settled comfortably in the dean's swivel chair, mopped his forehead and the back of his neck, and then grinned disarmingly at the girl.

"Answer me one question, Miss Welch: Ain't I the terriblest looking detective you ever saw?"

The girl's blue eyes opened wide and a quaint dimple appeared. "Well, I wouldn't say you were a sheik."

"I ain't this bad in cold weather. Heat just knocks me for a row of tins. Now Reagan yonder. . . ."

He lowered his voice. "You mustn't get sore at regular dicks, Miss Welch," he advised confidentially. "If they slough everybody, they're bound to have the right one. Me—I don't hardly ever make an arrest, and my job now is to turn loose at least two of the three Reagan's has got in stir." Jim was using police vernacular in a deliberate effort to impress the girl, and he knew that he was succeeding. She was sitting forward tensely; completely awed by his authoritative manner. "One thing, Miss Welch: I want you to know I'm on the level. I wouldn't try to put nothing over on you—cross my heart and hope to die if I would. If you don't believe that, why, there ain't hardly no use for us to talk."

"I think you're all right," said Ivy firmly.

"Thanks. It's real nice of you to say that. And now that we've started off so good, lemme tell you one thing more: I ain't a regular bull. I ain't got the slightest desire to make a record and I'd rather never slough anybody than do any harm to the wrong feller. You're sure your brother didn't do this thing. I sort of agree with you. But there's a whole lot of lying going on . . . and while I don't want to make you sore, Miss Welch—it ain't any secret that your brother is doing more than his share—which ain't helping him a bit. I want to locate somebody who knows something and is willing to talk straight. Will you or won't you?"

Ivy didn't hesitate. "I will!"

"Good girl. Now I want you to tell me about Mr. Thayer—and yourself. . . . Just whatever you feel I should know."

The girl bit her lip. "I've funny about that, Mr. Hanvey. I've tried to tell one or two people—even my brother—and they all laugh or sneer when I say I was in love with him."

"I wouldn't laugh, Miss Welch. I'm a sentimental old bird . . . and I believe in young love. Oh, gosh! how I do."

"I'm seventeen," she said. "I guess I'm not so awful dumb. I know about as much as the next girl. And I was in love with Pat Thayer. He was wonderful to me. Not always wise-cracking and showing off smart like most boys. He was awful different and I guess a girl knows whether she's in love or not, no matter how much people laugh. And when he—when he—"

Her eyes filled with fierce hot tears which she dashed away. "I'm an awful silly little fool, Mr. Hanvey—but I can't help it."

"You go right ahead and cry, Ivy. Hanvey's voice was infinitely gentle. "I guess I know how you feel, once when I was a heap younger—"

she jerked her head toward Reagan—"is absolutely dumb."

"This Man Here"—She Jerked Her Bobbed Head Toward Reagan—"Is Absolutely Dumb."

body could talk to Larry and see that he isn't the kind who would kill anybody. That is, anybody but a cop!"

Hanvey turned gravely to his companion.

"You see what the public thinks about you, John. And seeing that we don't need any solid ivory around here—suppose you run along and let me talk to this young lady alone?"

"Very well," Reagan rose, without resentment, and started for the door. Hanvey followed. He spoke in guarded tones. "Just had a hunch I could do more with her alone, John. Suppose you take this knife down to the jail and ask Vernon if he's ever seen it before?"

"And then?"

"Come back and come in. I got a hunch she and I will be pretty good buddies by then."

Reagan marched off and Hanvey re-entered the dean's office, closing the door behind him. He liked the trim little figure—although she somewhat frightened him. She was sitting now in a straight chair, and her legs were crossed—disclosing a frank expanse of pink flesh between the knee and the hem of the dress. Hanvey felt himself blushing, but Ivy seemed totally unconscious of her display.

He settled comfortably in the dean's swivel chair, mopped his forehead and the back of his neck, and then grinned disarmingly at the girl.

"Answer me one question, Miss Welch: Ain't I the terriblest looking detective you ever saw?"

The girl's blue eyes opened wide and a quaint dimple appeared. "Well, I wouldn't say you were a sheik."

"I ain't this bad in cold weather. Heat just knocks me for a row of tins. Now Reagan yonder. . . ."

He lowered his voice. "You mustn't get sore at regular dicks, Miss Welch," he advised confidentially. "If they slough everybody, they're bound to have the right one. Me—I don't hardly ever make an arrest, and my job now is to turn loose at least two of the three Reagan's has got in stir." Jim was using police vernacular in a deliberate effort to impress the girl, and he knew that he was succeeding. She was sitting forward tensely; completely awed by his authoritative manner. "One thing, Miss Welch: I want you to know I'm on the level. I wouldn't try to put nothing over on you—cross my heart and hope to die if I would. If you don't believe that, why, there ain't hardly no use for us to talk."

"I think you're all right," said Ivy firmly.

"Thanks. It's real nice of you to say that. And now that we've started off so good, lemme tell you one thing more: I ain't a regular bull. I ain't got the slightest desire to make a record and I'd rather never slough anybody than do any harm to the wrong feller. You're sure your brother didn't do this thing. I sort of agree with you. But there's a whole lot of lying going on . . . and while I don't want to make you sore, Miss Welch—it ain't any secret that your brother is doing more than his share—which ain't helping him a bit. I want to locate somebody who knows something and is willing to talk straight. Will you or won't you?"

Ivy didn't hesitate. "I will!"

"Good girl. Now I want you to tell me about Mr. Thayer—and yourself. . . . Just whatever you feel I should know."

The girl bit her lip. "I've funny about that, Mr. Hanvey. I've tried to tell one or two people—even my brother—and they all laugh or sneer when I say I was in love with him."

"I wouldn't laugh, Miss Welch. I'm a sentimental old bird . . . and I believe in young love. Oh, gosh! how I do."

"I'm seventeen," she said. "I guess I'm not so awful dumb. I know about as much as the next girl. And I was in love with Pat Thayer. He was wonderful to me. Not always wise-cracking and showing off smart like most boys. He was awful different and I guess a girl knows whether she's in love or not, no matter how much people laugh. And when he—when he—"

Her eyes filled with fierce hot tears which she dashed away. "I'm an awful silly little fool, Mr. Hanvey—but I can't help it."

"You go right ahead and cry, Ivy. Hanvey's voice was infinitely gentle. "I guess I know how you feel, once when I was a heap younger—"

she jerked her head toward Reagan—"is absolutely dumb."

"This Man Here"—She Jerked Her Bobbed Head Toward Reagan—"Is Absolutely Dumb."

body could talk to Larry and see that he isn't the kind who would kill anybody. That is, anybody but

Classified Advertising

Twenty-five words or less, one week, 25 cents; second week, 15 cents; each additional week, 10 cents.

Each word more than 25, one cent per word the first week, and one-half cent per word each succeeding week.

Any changes of copy after first insertion will be considered a new advertisement and charged accordingly.

For Sale

FOR SALE—Dave's Fruit Store. Stock and fixtures at a very low price. Reason for selling, death in family. 8p

FOR SALE—17 acres cleared land on State road, about 2 miles from Bethel village. Price $400. J. J. SPINNEY, Bethel, Phone 104-15. 9

FOR SALE—Tomato plants at 25c per dozen, also Pepper, Cabbage, Raspberry and Blackberry plants. Muscovy Duck Eggs, 50c a dozen. A. R. MASON. 7p

FOR SALE—Cottage lots and shore property on Lake Twitchell, Greenwood, and Lake Christopher, Bryants Pond, Maine. D. R. BILLINGS, Bryant Pond, Maine. 2ct

WHILE THEY LAST—I will in- stall range burners that you will like as follows: $12.50, $15.50, $18.50 and $25.50. I also have a few good used ranges for sale very cheap. H. ALTON BACON, Bryant Pond, Me. 40

Miscellaneous

TUNE IN—WHEB Portsmouth, N. H., 740 kilocycles, Sundays at 10:30 a. m. and 2:45 p. m. Bible instruction and musical program. 7p

GUNS, Rifles, Ammunition and Trappers' Supplies, bought, sold, and exchanged. H. I. DEAN, Fur Buyer and Lumber Dealer, Bethel, Maine. 23ct

PIANO TUNING—H. J. White will be in Bethel early in June. Orders with P. J. Tyler or write Box 6, Auburn, Me. 8

GREENWOOD CENTER

Several from this vicinity attended a party at the home of Ernest Brooks at Rowe Hill Friday evening.

Mary Martin attended a teachers' meeting at Bethel Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Arthur Tracy, who has been spending a short time at Norway, has come to the camp where she and Mr. Tracy expect to spend the summer.

Beryl Martin and Stanley Seames are building a camp at Twitchell Pond.

Sylvia Morgan spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Morgan at North Paris.

Ellen Martin and Wynona Farr of West Poland visited with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Martin, Friday night and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Tripp of West Poland were callers there on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holt of Norway called at Roy Martin's Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Niclaus Harithas and baby of Mechanic Falls and some friends of Lewiston were at the camp Sunday.

Norma Ring and Ethel Libby of Rowe Hill and Flora Swan of Bryant Pond were calling in the place Sunday.

Visitors at H. L. Martin's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holt of Norway, Charles and Irvin Martin of Greenwood, Reginald Roberts of Leche Mills and Leo Mills of Albany.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor
9:30 Church School. Miss Ida Packard, Superintendent.

11:00 Union Memorial Service in the Methodist Church.

6:30 Meeting of the Comrades of the Way. This will be the last meeting of the season and we shall hold an informal reception for the outgoing officers and for the new officers. It is hoped that every member will be present.

7:30 Evangelist Hood of the Volunteers of America will give an illustrated address on the life of Christ.

These pictures have been shown in many of the larger churches of the state and have been greatly appreciated.

The music for this service will be furnished by the Henderschott sisters and Adj. Henderschott. All who have heard this family will want to hear them again.

METHODIST CHURCH

R. C. Dalzell, Pastor
"Daylight Saving Time"

9:45 Sunday School. Supt. Evans Wilson.

11:00 Morning Worship. Memorial Day Union Service. The sons of Veterans and auxiliary organizations in attendance. Topic—"Remaking a World." There will be special music. The Gattysburg address will be read by Ruth Aubin.

6:30 Epworth League. Topic—"Can We Change Our World?" Leader: Howard Thurston.

7:30 Evening Service. Topic—"Providential Guidance."

7:30. Tuesday evening. Prayer service.
Plan to attend Children's Day service June 4. Sacrament of baptism will be administered.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday School at 10 o'clock.

Services Sunday morning at 10.45. Subject of the lesson sermon, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

Wednesday testimonial meeting at 7.30 p. m.

HERE AND THERE IN MAINE

Forest Commissioner Violette again warned the people about the present seriousness of the forest fire situation. He pointed out on Thursday that thus far this year there have been nearly 75 forest fires in Maine, 27 of which occurred within the limits of the State forestry district. More than 5,000 acres were burned, which he says is small in comparison with an average year.

Mrs. Rebecca Daboll, who has for several years had the distinction of being Norway's oldest resident, passed away Tuesday morning. She was 92 years of age.

According to estimates released by the Department of Agriculture Monday, Maine farms are worth six per cent less today than they were before the World War. Only seven other states show a more favorable comparison.

Two of Eastport's largest sardine canneries started operations Monday. There had been some question as to whether any of the eight canneries would open this season but the demand for the product has greatly increased. The starting of this industry greatly relieves the unemployment in Eastport.

The benefit concert at the Lewiston Armory Tuesday evening given by Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees was attended by 4,000 people. The proceeds from the concert is to be given to the New Auburn relief fund.

"KNOW YOUR GROCERIES" TO BE SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Know what is under the label when you buy canned goods. Become familiar with brand names of all groceries and buy only those which are best suited to the needs of your family and to your income. Know what size of can to buy for the size of your family. It does make a difference as you will realize after seeing the charts and hearing the lecture, "Know Your Groceries," which will be presented by Miss Ada Brewster, County Home Demonstration Agent, next Thursday afternoon, May 31, at the Grange Hall. Any questions which you may have about the groceries you are now buying will be answered. Recipes will be given for using them in different ways. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in making their groceries go as far as possible.

MASONIC FIELD DAY. COMMITTEES CHOSEN

The North Country Star and Compass Club is rapidly perfecting plans for its annual Field Day to be held at Shelburne Inn, June 10, when about five hundred Masons, their families and friends will assemble from many points in Northern New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Chairmen for the various committees to conduct the Field Day have been appointed as follows: Publicity, Herman Miles of Berlin; Sports, Warren Coombs of Gorham; Transportation, E. N. Whitcomb of Berlin; Refreshments, A. G. Lary of Gorham; Tickets, H. I. Woodward of Berlin; Program, A. C. Streeter of Berlin; Entertainment, Rev. H. C. Stallard of Berlin.

It will be possible to give out more detailed information concerning this event in about ten days when all of the committees have made their full reports at the weekly meeting.

Born

In South Paris, May 11, to the wife of Clarence C. Merrill, a daughter, Eloise Jean.

In Paris, May 15, to the wife of Merton Curtis, a son, Raymond Borton.

In North Buckfield, May 13, to the wife of Mordaunt Rowe, a daughter, Alberta Mabel.

In North Paris, May 14, to the wife of William Barnett, a son, Clayton Leonard.

In South Andover, May 13, to the wife of Stephen Abbott, a daughter, Roberta Eleanor.

Married

In Norway, May 21, Angelo Onofrio and Miss Dorothy Baker, both of Bethel.

In Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 22, 1932, Lawrence Turner and Miss Stella Mills of South Paris.

In Norway, May 17, by Rev. W. W. Lyon, Milton Martin and Miss Ethel M. Dunbar, both of Oxford.

In Livermore Falls, May 16, by Rev. F. Stewart Kinney, Robert M. Hicks of South Paris and Miss Verna Faye Leadbetter of Livermore Falls.

In Fryeburg, May 13, by Rev. Louis A. Dole, Arthur Byron Leach and Miss Mary Blanche Durgin, both of South Paris.

Died

In South Paris, May 19, Mrs. Almada Newton, aged 93 years, 11 months.

In Hebron, May 17, Mrs. Hattie F. Fogg, wife of A. M. Fogg, aged 78 years.

In Norway, May 18, Mrs. Ella Yeaton, aged 81 years.

In West Paris, May 16, Mrs. Rhodie M. Verrill, widow of Frank E. Verrill, aged 63 years.

In Norway, May 21, Miss Elizabeth O. Lasselle, aged 62 years.

In Lewiston, May 12, Mrs. Irene D. Barker, wife of Leroy Barker of Norway, aged 19 years.

In Boston, May 14, Lawson Granville Frost, formerly of Norway, aged about 70 years.

In West Baldwin, May 1, Albert G. Harris, formerly of South Paris, aged 44 years.

In Norway, May 23, Mrs. Rebecca T. Daboll, aged 92 years.

In Augusta, May 18, Webster Walker, aged 72 years, formerly of Bethel.

SIXTEEN DIVORCES GRANTED AT MAY TERM OF COURT

Sixteen divorces were granted at the May term of Superior Court which adjourned last Friday. One divorce was denied, that of John B. J. Smith of West Paris vs Pearl Smith of Bath, on grounds of adultery. The following were granted:

Nettie R. Burnham, of Canton from Paul Meserve Burnham. Cruel and abusive treatment. Custody of minor child, Ruel Dudley Burnham, given to the mother. The father to pay the sum of $300 and give a quitclaim deed on certain real estate.

Lucille E. Gendron of Rumford from Joseph A. Gendron of Rumford. Cruel and abusive treatment. Custody of four minor children given to the mother. The father to pay eight dollars per week.

Lulu J. Boyle of Mexico from Wilfred Boyle. Adultery. Libelant to resume her maiden name of Lulu H. Whitlock.

Harold F. Bartlett of Bethel from Violet F. Bartlett. Cruel and abusive treatment. Custody of Edward J. Bartlett to the paternal grandparents, Linden and Winnefred H. Bartlett.

Georgina Sessions of Rumford from Randall Floyd Sessions of Rumford. Adultery. Custody of four minor children to the mother. The father to pay $10 per week toward their support.

Mary Dannsevicault Stanes Millslansky of Rumford from William Millslansky. Cruel and abusive treatment. Libelant to pay libelant $3.00 per week.

Audrey Putnam Grover of Mexico from Rodney Grover of Dixfield. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Mae Hannan Wolfe of Rumford from George Albert Wolfe of Rumford. Adultery. Libelant to have right to resume her maiden name, Mae Hannan.

Mary M. Austin of Peru from Oscar N. Austin of Dixfield. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Pauline Dickson Staples of Rumford from Clinton Fairfax Staples of Rumford. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Philip W. Andrew of Dixfield from Gladys Parker Andrew of Natick, Mass., Desertion.

Elizabeth K. Hill of Fryeburg from George H. Hill of Fryeburg. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Ruby L. Roger of Greenwood from Artland K. Roger of Lewiston. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Walter J. Irvine of Paris from Katherine Lea Irvine of Norway. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Veronica L. Juskewitch from William senault of Berlin, N. H. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Alice Ross Barrett of Mexico from George G. Barrett of Mexico. Cruel and abusive treatment.

Tried and Tested

For more than 25 years our influence and helpfulness has been recognized by the people of this community.

Our strong financial position is one of the many important factors.

Bethel National Bank

Bethel, Maine

ODEON HALL, BETHEL Saturday Night, May 27

Clive Brook, Lila L. Charlie Ruggles Gene Raymond Frances Dee Mary Boland Adriance Allen

The Night of June 13

Cartoon — Sound Music BEGINS AT 8.25, FAST TIME Children 20c Adults 30c Every Saturday Night A Jigsaw Puzzle Will Be Given With Each Ticket.

Proper Lubrication is Economical

Putting off the needed greasing of your car from day to day means but one thing—your car will wear out before its time. Some day in an emergency your car will fail, and you may be fortunate to suffer only a heavy repair bill. You will be pleased with our service.

FIRESTONE TIRES

SHELL GASOLINES AND OILS

FIRESTONE BATTERIES

ROBERTSON SERVICE STATION

RAILROAD ST. Phone 31-3 BETHEL, ME.

THE

VOLUME XXXIX—NUMBER

BETHEL AND VICINITY

J. Tyler is in Connecticut business this week.

H. Spearin left Saturday week's fishing at Moose Lake.

Master John Cutler has gone with Paris to visit his aunt, G. King.

Mrs. Alice Edwards was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Leroy Hall, for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bennett and family were Sunday callers at Brown's in Albany.

Durward Mason went to Col. N. H. Monday, where he met with E. F. Peterkin.

Miss Eugenia Haselton is assisting with the work at the home of S. Greenleaf for two weeks.

Mrs. E. C. Park was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Ma Boston over Memorial Day.

Mrs. Alice Skillings Robinson, guest of her mother at W. Mass., over Memorial Day.

Miss Tyler of Portland went home here over the week end.

Mrs. John Philbrook went to Grand Thursday to attend funeral of her son-in-law, Dr. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown were the week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holbrook, Lynn, Mass., were guests at Dr. Spearin's over the week end.